McCunn Not 'Under Wraps' Says President

Superintendent Drummond told The Sun that "The board felt I should not discuss textbooks until the current studies... are completed."

The studies are being completed by the Personnel Standards Commission's group of administrators, board members and teachers, and also the Leavitt group.

McCunn MAY be questioned at the next board meeting about his statement to The Sun last week that the district is in danger of losing some $1 million in state aid next year due to the failure to comply with the State Education Code.

McCunn had said that the code requirements that "regular courses of instruction on the Constitution... American history... institutions, ideals, principles..." are not being met in every way.

McCunn said the state code has stiff penalties for violators. Kretzmer said that McCunn may be asked to enlarge upon his statement since, "If this is a strong possibility, and the superintendent does not bring it before the board, this would be a dereliction of duty."

"I AM shocked that he did not bring it to the board earlier," added Kretzmer.

The board will meet Monday night at 8 at Diablo Valley College.

"As president of the board, I know nothing about any danger of losing $1 million in state aid funds," said Kretzmer.

"I checked with our local legislator and he knows nothing about it. The board has received no information whatsoever about it."

"AS FOR his difficulty in getting anyone to define a textbook, I checked Webster's New World College Edition, and it says, '... any book used as a basis or partial basis of the course to be studied.'"

"If the superintendent had taken the trouble to ask me, I would have told him."

"In my mind, any book which has some value for the purpose of instruction in a course fits the definition," said Kretzmer.

Kretzmer referred to a statement by McCunn at a recent dinner in his honor that he, McCunn, has been placed "under wraps" and could not speak freely upon current district problems.

McCunn did not name the board, specifically, but later he

Chamber Hears New Officer Nominations

At the Orinda Chamber of Commerce luncheon meeting last week at the Casa Orinda, nominations for new officers were given. Postmaster Laura Mallory reported on the new post office. Clarence Betz gave a report on the bus turnout bids.

At the May meeting, the nominations will become official. Nominations will also be considered from the floor.

The nominating committee was headed by Ernest Poll of Village Cleaners. Nominations are as follows: President, Will Amatrone, manager Sprouse-Reitz Company; vice-president, Elmer Anderson, assistant manager Wells Fargo Bank; secretary-treasurer, Clarence Betz.

Blood Letting Studied As Aid Treating Heart Cases

A team of heart research scientists, supported by the Contra Costa County Heart Association, are going back into medical history for a second look at one of the oldest and most widely discredited forms of medical treatment—blood letting.

Dr. Byron Pollock of the University of California's Donner Laboratory and Dr. Marvin B. Bacaner, attending physician of Highland Hospital, Oakland, are engaged in an investigation of a new possibility of helping patients with severe heart disease.

The basic idea behind the project is that a carefully controlled periodic reduction of blood volume produces a mild anemia. The anemia, in turn, thins the blood and makes it less likely to clot in the circulation of the heart muscle and the brain.

THE THREE-YEAR study, at Highland Hospital, Oakland, will be conducted with volunteer patients who have heart attacks or other signs of pronounced hardening of the arteries. The investigators are hopeful that the treatment will reduce the likelihood of a second.

During the three-year study period, the physicians will compare this group of specially treated patients with another group of heart patients who have not had the treatment.

If the treated group has less repetition of heart attacks, and shows no significant side effects, the research may open the way to an improvement in the treatment of heart patients.

The local research programs are in addition to funds allocated to the American Heart Association and the California Heart Association for long-range nationwide research projects.

Big Turnout Expected at Meet

Panel to Discuss Use Of Association Land

Pasture or playground? The cows prefer a pasture. Some Orindans are rooting for a playground. There are many possibilities. The future use of the ten acres of Orinda Association land adjacent to the crossroads will be the theme for the association's annual meeting. It will be held Monday at 8 p.m. at the Orinda School.

"We need your interest ideas and $2 yearly membership fee," Paul Fanning, chairman of the membership drive, said in an invitational letter which went out to all residents.

"THE ASSOCIATION'S land is intended for community use. Currently, the civic affairs committee is soliciting ideas and suggestions from the people of Orinda for the best possible development of this property," said Eric Nielsen, president.

The board of directors hopes to interest as many Orindans as possible in joining the group and participating in the discussion as to the future of the association land. It is located near the southwest corner of the freeway, at the San Pablo Dam Road intersection.

An outstanding panel will lead the discussion. Moderator of the panel will be Harry Flederman, a member of the association's board of directors. Flederman is a corporation attorney and acting chairman of the permanent committee on the use of the land.

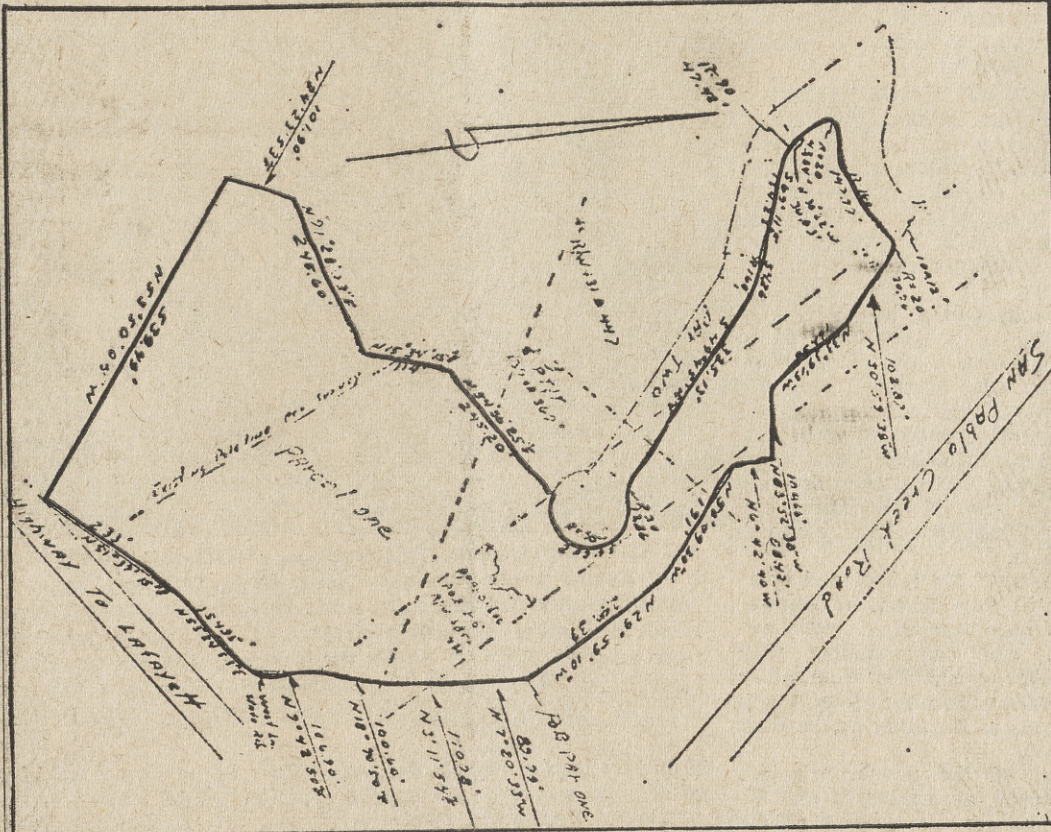

HE WILL give the frame of reference. The rest of the panel will then engage in a free wheeling sort of informal discussion among themselves. After an interchange of ideas among the panelists, the discussion will go to the floor.

Other prominent Orindans serving on the panel will be: Ann (Mrs. Paul) Pollaczek, Orinda's "Man of the Year" in 1959, currently serving on the Orinda Beautification Committee; James Rector Lucas, architect and past president of Orinda Rotary and Chamber of Commerce; and William Penn Mott, manager of the Eastbay Regional Park District and longtime Orinda resident active in civic affairs.

According to a detailed report made recently by Flederman, the community "has a very limited knowledge and interest in the (association) property at this time... perhaps due mainly to lack of sustained communication to the community regarding the property."

DEVELOPMENT OF the land must be planned now, Flederman said, since an option to purchase a 6.24 acre adjacent parcel, which the association may want to acquire, will expire in 1963.

The additional parcel is adjacent to this parcel would be used and westerly to the association land, having essentially the same terrain. It is $21,940. Ac-

THE UNUSUAL SHAPE of the Orinda Association 10 acres is shown in this reproduction. The heavy outline is of the association land's boundaries. The property top center is a 6 1/4 acre adjacent parcel on which the association has an option to buy, expiring May of 1963.

P.O. Move Postponed For a Week

"Plans are being formulated for the dedication and opening of the new Orinda Post Office on May 12, although unexpected delays in the delivery of equipment have caused a postponement of the actual moving date, originally scheduled for this weekend," Mrs. Laura Mallory, postmaster, announced yesterday.

The postoffice plans to move to its new location, 33 Orinda Way, next weekend. Plans have been completed to make the changeover without an interruption in service, according to Mrs. Mallory.

"Insofar as possible, patrons have been given their present box numbers," said Mrs. Mallory. "Every patron will have to learn a new combination, however, in order to open his box."

Inspectors examined the new quarters earlier in the week, and recommended the postponement. The dedication is scheduled for 3 p.m. The entire community is invited to participate in this event, according to Mrs. Mallory. It will be under the auspices of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce. The Miramonte High School band will be on hand. Members of the Boy Scout troops will participate.

Easter Services Are Planned by Churches

Orinda and Moraga Valley churches will hold special Easter services today and Sunday.

SANTA MARIA Catholic Church, Santa Maria and Orinda Way, will hold devotional services this afternoon from noon until 3 p.m. Reverend Thomas Hayes, O.P., chaplain at St. Mary's, will conduct the services.

At 8 p.m. tonight, there will be the Mass of Passion and holy communion. Holy Saturday there will be confessions from 3:30 until 5 p.m. and 7:30 until 9 p.m. At 11 p.m. Saturday Easter vigil services will be held.

Easter Sunday services will be held at 7:30, 9, 10:30 and 12:15. Reverend David J. Harrington, pastor of Santa Maria, and Reverend Daniel E. Cardelli will conduct the services.

ORINDA Community Church will hold an Easter sunrise service on the church plaza, Orinda Way. Members of the Senior Pilgrim Fellowship will conduct the service.

Three Festival Easter services will be held in the sanctuary at 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m. The Reverend Chauncey Blossom will deliver the sermon. Arthur Hobart will assist in the services. Special Easter music will be featured by the choir.

THE MORAGA Presbyterian Church will hold their services at the old Moraga school. The Reverend Ronald White will de-

Moraga Lions Elect Officers

The Moraga Lions Club elected new officers at their regular meeting Monday night at the Moraga Barn.

John De Guardia was elected president. Also elected were: Ed Hicks, first vice president; Art Fleuti, second vice president; Bob McGuire, third vice president; Ernie Siri, secretary; Robert Athey, treasurer; Keith Tice, lion tamer, and Bob Francis, tail twister.

Two new members were introduced: Robert Maloney and Timothy O'Hurley.

Plans were discussed for the luau, scheduled for June 10. Ten couples are planning to go to the State Lions convention at Hoberg's over the week-end of May 4. A trailer will be rigged to advertise the luau, according to Jim Barcelon, president.

April Shower--- Hooray! Say May Flowers

Spring Seems To Have Bypassed Us This Year

DESPITE the fact that our so-called winter season seems to have slipped into summer without even pausing at the traditional springtime, boys and girls seem to follow the general pattern the world over. Studies forgotten for awhile, Rick Bowles and Luanne Russell lounge on the green of a high school campus.

THE REALLY young men of the community, however, don't have time for the young ladies. When the weather gets warm, the bats and balls come out of the hall closet and the young men are happy once again—it's baseball time again. Here, Randy Warner calls out Timmy Toujian who slides in vain as he gets tagged by Ricky Schmidli.

THE TRADITION of springtime is apparent in this picture with the gallant young man carrying the books for the charming young lady as they walk home from school. From the way they are looking at one another, Ella Whitehead and Scott Romer aren't discussing school. Sun Photo by Bob Yost.

Presbyterian Church Plans New Building

Moraga Valley Presbyterian Church building committee held their first meeting recently at the old Moraga School.

Clinton Cooper of Orinda was named permanent chairman. Objects and goals of the committee were outlined. Howard Robie, who is director of the new church development for the north coastal area was present.

The site is on a knoll in the Diablo Estates tract in Moraga.

Leiber Passes Special Exam

Irving Leiber, public accountant of 9-A Moraga Way, Orinda, was informed this week by the United States Treasury Department that he passed a special enrollment examination to practice as agents before the Internal Revenue Service.

This authorizes Leiber to act as a taxpayer's agent representing clients before the Internal Revenue Service of the U.S. Treasury Department.

Leiber took extensive written tests and an enrollment examination covering field of federal taxation to pass.

He established practice in Orinda in February, 1954.

Leiber lives at 1 Macomber Road, Danville, with his wife and five children, four boys and one girl.

Woman's Club Grets 13 Prospects

On Monday evening the Orinda Women's Club will hold a program of orientation for 13 prospective new members of the club at the Orinda Masonic Auditorium. All of the club's officers will read the annual reports at this meeting and the new members will be introduced to the group. They will be formally initiated next month at the club's candlelight ceremony and installation dinner.

Those who will serve the community as members of the Orinda Women's Club include the Mmes. Robert Alvarez, Marvin Carlile, Richard T. Gemmill, John Harrell, George Hillis, Richard LeGrand, Emery Lillard, Warren Merrill, Harry Polhamus, David Shultz, C. E. Toland, Gale Dreisbach, Robert DeWitt and Mrs. George Paul.

Hostesses for this meeting are Mrs. Donald Pedersen, chairman of the refreshment committee; assisted by the Mesdames John Barkley, Earl S. Hill, Delbert Thompson and Mrs. David Wenrich.

Campolindo Students Meet Staff

(Ed. note: This is the second of a two-part series exclusive to The Sun on Campolindo High School. It deals with curriculum, administration and personnel.)

The 180 students who will be enrolling in Campolindo High School are "looking forward to September, along with myself, the teaching staff and Mrs. Jean Pine, our school secretary." That's how Campolindo principal Alex Winchester sums up the prospect of the new school's opening in the fall.

Winchester has been meeting with small groups of parents in their homes to explain "the school and its program and the educational opportunities which will be available to the student attending."

Actual programming of individual students for classes next year has been completed, "with the cooperation and interest of eighth grade intermediate school teachers and their principals in the schools from which we are drawing our students."

Programming has been completed in a three-way conference between the school counselor, the student, and the parent. Individual planning sessions were preceded by a general parent orientation meeting featuring presentations by representatives of the district and the Campolindo High administration.

To staff the school and operate its curriculum, Winchester has been recruiting, interviewing, and corresponding with teacher candidates from other schools within the district and schools as far away as the East Coast.

All of the people selected, however, are residents of California. Seven members of the initial staff are transfers from within the district.

ACALANES Union High School District administrators who have headed the long range planning that will lead to the opening of the district's fifth high school, Campolindo High, next fall check over some of the building, curriculum, and staff planning materials that have gone into the preparation of the new school. Left to right: Neil Parsons, superintendent of the Acalanes District, Alex Winchester, principal of the new Campolindo School, and Leland Russell, assistant superintendent for education in the Acalanes District.

They include: Winchester, who will be new dean of boys at Campolindo, also formerly was at Acalanes High girls, where he headed and taught in the social studies department. HELOISE CORR, new dean of girls at El Cerrito High. Niels Waitlow from Acalanes, will teach science and physical education. William Reavis, from Miramonte, will teach math. George Hunrick, from Del Valle, will be teaching social studies. Hugh Molina, from Las Lomas, will teach English, Spanish and Latin.

New teachers to the district who will be on the Campolindo staff are Karen Becker, home economics and art; Suzanne Burrows, librarian; Madeline De Klotz, girls physical education and English; Douglas Reed, industrial arts and general math; Wallace Steele, music; and Lydia Williamson, French, German and English.

A teacher from the staff is yet to be designed to teach typing. Of the total starting faculty of 13, all but three have had classroom experience ranging from a minimum of three years to 22.

EVEN THOUGH the school enrollment is limited the first year to a ninth grade class, Winchester reports that "no effort has been spared, and these students will have the full range of curriculum offered ninth grade students in a full four-year high school."

"Because of the smaller enrollment, students will actually have a better-than-usual opportunity to participate in all the facets of a high school program," Winchester asserts.

"They won't be pushed out or competing with upper classmen who usually dominate regular school activities. Students will have a chance to get into the act in everything from physical education and athletics to student government and foreign language clubs," he says.

It was held in San Diego last week. Johnson is a junior. He is majoring in history.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON REZONING UNDER THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE COUNTY OF CONTRA COSTA FOR A PORTION OF THE ORINDA AREA.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 1st day of May, 1962, at the hour of 8:00 p.m. of said day in Room 210, Hall of Records Building, Court and Main Streets, Martinez, California, the Contra Costa County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on matters pertaining to the rezoning of lands lying within the boundaries of the following maps of Ordinance No. 382: "The Districts Map for the Southeast Orinda Area, Contra Costa County, California, Insert Map No. 14". The matter of said hearing pertains to the following described property within the unincorporated territory of the County of Contra Costa, State of California, to-wit: Portion of lots 36 and 157, as designated on the map entitled "Moraga Estates, Contra Costa County, California", which map was filed in the office of the Recorder of the County of Contra Costa, State of California on November 2, 1936 in Volume 22 of Maps at page 627, described as follows: Beginning on the east line of the parcel of land described in the deed from Estates Development to Lella P. Wood, et al, dated August 7, 1944 and recorded August 15, 1944 in Volume 795 of Official Records, at page 146, distant thereon north 26° 21' east, 2.93' from the north southerly corner thereof, said point of beginning also being on the northeast line of the 5' in width strip of land described in the deed from Leila P. Wood, et al, to Robert L. Gilmore, et ux, dated February 2, 1951 and recorded February 6, 1951 in Volume 1713 of Official Records, at page 163, thence from said point of beginning along said northeast line, north 32° 08' 43" west, 10.87' and north 63° 31' 30" west, 30.73' to the west line of said Wood parcel (795 OR 146); thence along said west line north 26° 21' east 50.01' and northerly along the arc of a curve to the left with a radius of 182.13', an arc distance of 113.57'; thence south 23° 00' east, 91.31'; thence along the arc of a curve to the right, the center of which bears south 75° 49' 57" east, with a radius of 222.13', an arc distance of 47.23'; thence south 26° 21' west, 54.63' to the point of beginning; less that portion now zoned as a Retail Business District (R-B).

YOU ARE FURTHER NOTIFIED that the County Planning Commission will consider the request of Joseph R. Longacre, Jr. and Alfred M. Pettler to rezone portions of the above described property from the existing Transition Residential Agricultural District (R-A) to Retail Business District (R-B).

YOU ARE FURTHER NOTIFIED that this is a public hearing required under the Conservation and Planning Law, and which said hearing may conclude the hearings before the Planning Commission prior to the presentation of a report and recommendation to the Board of Supervisors of the County of Contra Costa. If this hearing concludes the hearings by the Planning Commission, a report of findings, summaries of hearings and recommendation of the Planning Commission will then be presented to the Board of Supervisors.

FRANK R. BEEDE, Secretary, Contra Costa County Planning Commission. O. #233-4/20

Grand Jury Urges More Probationers

The county should hire more probation officers in order to cut the high costs of keeping children in Juvenile Hall. This was the recommendation of the probation committee of the Contra Costa Grand Jury.

In a report that was very complimentary to the activities of the County Probation Department, the committee said the more children released to foster parents, or kept within their own family, the less cost there is to the county.

Actually, according to Donald V. Morrison, assistant probation officer, the department intends to ask for 12 more deputy probation officers for the next fiscal year.

SEVEN OF these would be needed to maintain the present caseload, and the other five would be used to beef up the program and do some preventive work, if possible.

Only two deputy probation officers were added this year by the Board of Supervisors. Nevertheless, Morrison explained the department's workload has been radically increased by recent changes in the State juvenile court law.

THE CHANGES, which affect the caseloads per man in the department include:

1—Both parents of the child must be notified before a child comes before the probation department.

2—A special detention hearing must be held with both parents present before a child can be held in the juvenile hall.

3—There must be an annual review on cases where the child is under department supervision more than a year.

Although the Grand Jury did not specify how many men were needed, the committee commented:

IF THESE additional staff members are added, the additional field work that can be done will greatly reduce the load at the Juvenile Hall and keep more children in their homes under supervision or in temporary foster homes.

"The savings here can be realized in considering the average cost if a child in the Juvenile Hall is about $450 per month as compared to about $120 per month in a foster home."

They added that the Juvenile Hall is already overcrowded, and that unless the population of the hall is reduced, additions will have to be built.

THE COMMITTEE also asked that the second and third units of the Boys' Ranch be completed quickly, along with a rehabilitation center for girls and a new classroom for the Juvenile Hall.

The committee finished the report with a compliment for the Juvenile Hall Auxiliary, a group of citizens who assist the staff on a volunteer basis on special needs not filled by the county.

Marin Withdrawal Set

Next Tuesday may be the most important day in the embryonic life of the $790 million three-county rapid transit system for the Marin County supervisors have indicated they will officially withdraw at their next official meeting.

Elimination of Marin County from the transit plan has been accomplished on the drawing boards and in the planning chambers for many weeks. But the supervisors have been reluctant to officially end their participation in the project.

Even after engineers had ruled that the Golden Gate Bridge could not be used for trains, the Marin supervisors hesitated. They wanted assurance of future inclusion in a future transit program. None could be given and they finally agreed to officially withdraw next Tuesday.

ALTHOUGH THE green light hasn't been flashed, officials of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District are already poised to sweep into action next week and put the organization into high-gear.

All indications point to the rapid transit bond issue being placed on the November ballot for an Alameda-Contra Costa-San Francisco system.

Harry Morrison Jr., a member of the BARTD board, said the district has received top priority for federal grants if the proposed bill now in congress to aid city transportation projects is given approval.

Under this measure $500 million would be provided for loans and grants to rapid transit projects across the nation.

Although Marin County has agreed to withdraw from the transit planning, two directors from the region attacked the report of the engineers which ruled out any train level being installed on the Golden Gate span.

M. JOSEPH Lamperti and T. J. De Lasau attacked the official report of the engineers.

De Lasau accused bridge officials of controlling the contents of the report. He said the state should take the bridge out of the hands of the district and place it under the jurisdiction of the State Toll Bridge Authority.

Lamperti asserted that a glass case could be put around the bridge and make it last forever.

Under present plans the $790 million proposal will be presented to the three-county supervisors before June 1 for approval so the measure can be placed on the ballot.

Show Cancer Film

Residents of all near-by communities are invited to see a free cancer education film, "Life Story," next Monday at 1 p.m. at the Park Theater in Lafayette.

Mrs. J. J. Van Loben Sels, Jr., of Lafayette, is chairman of the current educational and fund drive conducted by the American Cancer Society.

The dramatic film shows the life-saving value of being alert to cancer's danger signals and is of interest to both men and women.

Dr. Frederick A. Pellegrin of Walnut Creek will be present to answer questions after the film showing, which is being held in observance of April, national cancer control month.

John L. Cooley of Walnut Creek, Contra Costa chairman of the cancer campaign, also will speak.

FREE BABY sitting will be held at Benedict's in Lafayette during the film, with Mrs. Cooley and daughter, Mrs. Carol Bryant of Lafayette, volunteering as supervisors.

Next Tuesday, April 24, Mrs. John C. Folliard, Orinda cancer campaign chairman, has scheduled a coffee klatch for all Orinda captains and other local volunteers, at 10 a.m. at Mike Lynn's restaurant.

Speakers here will be Chairman Cooley, and Mrs. Harold C. Bates of Moraga, county chairman of the residential drive which will culminate the campaign on Monday, April 30.

Lafayette Schools May Purchase Added Land

The Lafayette School District was granted an option by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday to purchase a 2.9-acre strip of land the county owns at the western end of Newell Avenue.

The land was originally acquired by the county in 1956 to extend Newell to Relief Station Valley Road. It is no longer needed for public use because the county purchased an adjacent parcel along the Sacramento Northern right-of-way for Olympic Boulevard. The new boulevard will parallel and supersede the Newell extension.

Cost of the land, valued at $7000 per acre, will be $14,630.

The school district has until September to exercise its option. Purchase from the county is contingent upon the district's ability to acquire adjacent sites from private individuals which is necessary before a large enough parcel will be available for the construction of a new K-6 elementary school.

In other action, Chairman Thomas J. Coll and the board's Airport Advisory Committee announced the supervisors accepted as complete the installation of a sewage lift pump, sanitary sewer lines and water mains at Buchanan Field.

The contract work was completed by the M.G.M. Construction Company of Concord on April 9, in 14 of the 60 working days allotted.

Also, accepted as completed was the contract with Gravelle and Gravelle of Fair Oaks for clearing the "B-1" route of the Bear Creek Road relocation project.

Supervisor Mel F. Nielsen said design of the relocation group supervisor in the new department is nearing completion development projects group of the and will soon be advertised for bids in the very near future.

This section of road will replace the connection between Upper Happy Valley Road and children reside at 1065 Scotts Hampton Road (Bear Creek Lane, Walnut Creek).

Supervisors granted permission to American Pipe and Construction Company to close Brown Avenue, Lafayette, to traffic at the East Bay MUD right-of-way from April 17 to May 2. The closure is necessary to provide the installation of an aqueduct.

A two-way detour has been provided for access from Brown Avenue to Miller Drive and Deer Hill Road.

In anticipation of the large amount of projects to be handled in the coming summer months, the Contra Costa County Flood Control and Water Conservation District held a special commission meeting Tuesday night to deal with a work-load of preliminary formalities.

Chief Engineer C. C. Rich was authorized to sign agreements with the Soil Conservation Service for land rights certification on Deer Creek Dam, Las Trampas Creek, Grayson Creek and Dry Creek projects.

This was necessary before federal funds could be released for work on these areas.

Rich was also appointed as contracting officer for the construction of the four projects.

The district will call for bids on Tice Creek and Deer Creek projects next week. They will be opened on May 22 and, hopefully, the contracts will be awarded May 29, according to Rich's office.

Special Board Tracks Cancer

Every Monday morning a group of eminent medical specialists gathers at the Contra Costa County Hospital at Martinez. They are the "good guys" in the greatest detective drama of our day. They are sleuths tracking down cancer.

These men represent some of the best brains abroad in their particular fields of study. They are the "Tumor Board"—the only one in the county—and they are giving their time both to help patients who need it and to teach younger doctors the best ways of diagnosing and treating the various kinds of tumors they find.

The "Tumor Board" was set up in 1950 at the urging of the American Cancer Society who paid initial clerical costs until the hospital, under the leadership of medical director Dr. George Degnan, took over.

Since then thousands of patients have benefited from the wealth of experience garnered here in the persons of the specialists forming the "Tumor Board."

Patients come from clinics of the Contra Costa County Medical Service, comprising the Martinez Hospital, the Richmond Health Center, and the Pittsburg outpatient Clinic. They also come referred by their own private physicians.

Any worried citizen can ask his doctor to send him to the "Tumor Board" for opinions and recommendations which are forwarded to the attending physician. These doctors can send those who financially need it to the county hospital for the recommended treatment, too.

"Tumor Board" consultations are granted at no cost to the patient or the referring physician. County hospital patients automatically are given a session with the "Tumor Board," sometimes even when they don't know they need it.

For instance, patients are hospitalized for a cough or stomach pain. The examining doctor will see a birth mark or a small ulceration on, say the face. This lesion doesn't heal but it isn't bothering the patient. He's more concerned with his stomach ache. The doctor refers him to the "Tumor Board," too, and many lives have been saved this way.

"Besides benefiting the patients before them, the 'Tumor Board' provides a golden opportunity for young doctors in training," noted Director Dr. Degnan.

"Also, any doctor practicing in the county can attend the 'Tumor Board' clinics, and many regularly do—from Antioch, Richmond, Pleasant Hill—from most Contra Costa communities.

"They find the 'Tumor Board' valuable because one could practice for years privately and not have an opportunity to see the varieties of tumors appearing here. Or have the advantage of consultation with specialists as to the best treatment to be offered."

Here is how the board works: members, when they come to the Monday sessions, are given each patient's history and background. Then each specialist examines the patients. Then the group assembles and Dr. Degnan presents the individual cases to the group.

Others add their observations. They then discuss the pros and cons of various treatments. Finally, they confer and decide what's best to do—whether it's surgery, radiation, or continued observation.

Consulting experts on the board include a radiologist, a dermatologist, ear, nose and throat specialist, pathologist, surgeons, including plastic and thoracic, internists, including cases, an ophthalmologist, urologist, orthopedist, an obstetrician and gynecologist. Then, there are the chiefs of departments of the hospital, "G.P.s" or general practice physicians, residents and interns.

Appointment of Adrian V. Salet as Pacific Coast regional distribution administration manager for the Westinghouse Electric Corporation was announced by Walter J. Maytham, regional vice-president.

Education Series Opens Wednesday at Las Lomas

Contemporary issues in education will be brought into focus in a series of monthly programs being inaugurated at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the multi-use room of Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek, sponsored by Taxpayers and Parents Associated for Better Education, Inc.

Announced as a "public meeting" the initial speaker for the series will be Mrs. Janet Allen of Sutter Creek. She gained fame as co-author of the "Minority Report of the Citizens Advisory Commission to the Joint Interim Committee on the Public Education System."

Mrs. Allen is a housewife and a mother of six young children. She is a graduate of the University of California and a Sacramento County school teacher. Her husband is a native Californian and a cattleman.

MRS. ALLEN is presently a member of the Soroptimist Club, Order of the Eastern Star, California Cattleman's Association, Farm Bureau, Marines Memorial Association, and the California Alumni Association.

She has been a teacher in intermediate grades and in high school, and has taught in both public and private schools.

Mrs. Allen will share the findings and recommendations of the committee that prepared the Minority Report in 1960. Some of the questions that will be answered are:

1. Does the current educational philosophy comply with the laws of the Educational Code? Does it encourage regard for academic achievement, and a respect for subject matter?

2. How is the educational policy determined? Where does the responsibility lie?

3. Is there value in the administration of behavior, personality, and life-adjustment testing programs?

4. Are there merits in the present "social studies" curricula, or has the "social studies" phase of present curricula been detrimental to study of geography, history and civics?

5. Should minimum educational standards and school records be available to parents and guardians?

Mrs. Allen has stated: "Drastic, not mild changes are needed to correct the present weaknesses in the public schools in California.

Eleven Win, Seven Lose Beauty Race

Seven and 11 may be lucky numbers but to the seven girls eliminated from the competition to become Miss Contra Costa County there is considerable doubt.

Eleven held its lucky potency for the contest since that number of contestants remained to battle it out in the finals of the county pageant, scheduled to be held on May 12, under sponsorship of the Walnut Creek Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Five judges picked the lucky 11 on a basis of personality, poise, beauty and talent. Talent was half of the deciding factor.

The finalists who will compete for a $250 scholarship and a chance to enter the Miss California contest are: Sandra L. Coffin, Joyce and Judith Mathews, Linda E. Hubbard, Janice M. Petri, Carleen Bagley, Diana L. Nelson, DeAnna Stucki, Patricia L. Hughes, Patricia A. Nelson and Judith A. Gale.

Redwood Sanctuary in Canyon Is Near Home

By GLADYS SHALLY

Have you ever felt the need to escape from the pressure of everyday living?—a yearning for a change of scenery or a chance to recapture for a short while the tranquility that only a mountain forest can give you?

Then pile into the family car and head for the hills two miles southwest of Moraga for a pleasant drive along Pinehurst Road which winds through a scenic countryside that is unsurpassed in Contra Costa County for beauty and variety.

The full length of Pinehurst Road is just seven miles, starting at Redwood Road at the east end and joining Skyline Boulevard at the west end.

It may seem much longer as the road is a narrow winding thoroughfare that climbs around the natural curvature of the steep hills and follows beside meandering San Leandro Creek in Redwood Canyon.

TAKE CANYON ROAD out of Moraga, past the end of Upper San Leandro Reservoir, over the old Sacramento-Northern overpass and through rolling green hills where cattle (and often, deer) graze.

From the overpass you will catch your first glimpse of the redwood-covered slopes ahead. With a dramatic suddenness your road enters a shady wooded area and joins Pinehurst at its midpoint.

Here you have a choice of two short sight-seeing trips.

If you prefer a panoramic view, turn left and follow Pinehurst Road as it winds up above the reservoir, then continues over the hill and down to meet Redwood Road.

If you are in the mood for forestland and creek, turn right on Pinehurst and drive along the canyon floor through the redwoods. A short mile above the entrance of the old train tunnel is the junction with Skyline Boulevard.

It is not much more than double the distance to make a complete circle trip, traveling by way of Skyline, to Redwood Road, through Alameda County's "new" Redwood Canyon, past the entrance to Redwood Regional Park, and back to our starting point.

BEFORE YOU decide which trip to take, it might be well to pause here at the junction, turn off the key and get out of the car to take notice of the surroundings. (People who commute this way every day—do they ever notice anything but the road or the back end of the car they are trailing?) Take a whiff of that fresh, woody air, soak up the atmosphere and relax.

Through the quiet a breeze rattles the leaves of the 100-foot-high eucalyptus trees and you can hear birds chirping or the chatter of a squirrel in the redwoods.

You might want to walk down the road a bit to the bridge over San Leandro Creek—very low these last few years. To the left at the area of the road junction is Pinehurst Park, a great gathering place in the railroad era. Another park, Madrone, is up the canyon a short distance.

Where the creek wriggles over into the deeper woods on the right you can see where great trees were felled by the 1958 storm. When water conditions are right, rainbow trout laze in the pools or hide under over-hanging roots of old trees.

Piles of wood and debris under the trees were not put there by a clean-up committee, they are the homes of wood rats which abound all through the wooded area.

THERE CAN BE NO exploring or picnicking in the redwoods. In fact there are few places along the road which afford parking places. There is a small picnic area, however, a little over a mile up the road, in a redwood grove across from the Redwood Inn. The "inn" is now a private residence, but does provide a summer-time store.

In the horse and buggy days Redwood Canyon was a vacation land. People drove horse and wagons over the old Thorn Road, which continued up the far upper end of the Canyon to join Snake Road. Some camped all summer and there was good hunting and fishing.

For a little more atmosphere of historical interest: During the lumbering era, this Y was a busy cross roads. Canyon Road (Prince in 1852) continued across Pinehurst (then Colorado) and up over the forested hillside, along what is now called Redwood Creek. Then past Prince's sawmill into Oakland. Another followed San Leandro Creek (then called Redwood) to Hayward.

In those days this quiet canyon rang with the sound of ax and saw and the lusty shouts of lumbermen. The earth trembled as each ancient giant was felled—some redwoods grew to a height of over 800 feet. The air was heavy with the mixture of smoke from the steam sawmills and thick clouds of dust raised by plodding ox or horse teams hauling heavy, creaking lumber wagons.

By 1860, after the last monarch had fallen, nature went quietly to work to put to rights the havoc made by man. The old redwood stumps sprouted new growth and today all around you can see the "youngsters" striving for the greatness reached by the parent trees. A redwood can grow to 80 feet in 30 years.

FOR ARMCHAIR travelers who might like a TV view of a Pinehurst loop trip, let's take a travelogue-type tour.

For convenience sake, we'll start our trip at the Redwood Road junction, near the entrance to Redwood Regional Park.

The road winds steeply up the grass and brush-covered hill. Over the top, around a rather sharp bend and there before us lies miles of wilderness. On a little farther we can park at one of the several vantage points above Upper San Leandro Reservoir, get out of the car and take pleasure in the view of the sparkling water and the deeply-ravined hillside opposite.

Just above where one arm of the reservoir extends to meet Moraga Creek, you can see the road from Moraga, Moraga Valley and from some points, Rheem. In the far distance more to the right is the jagged crest of Rocky Ridge.

The hill upon which we are standing is densely covered with chaparral, oaks, laurel and other allied growth.

LOOKING DOWN at the reservoir (here binoculars come in handy) you can observe fish jumping, leaving ever-widening water rings, geese gliding in a sedate parade to join their flock on the shore and helledivers, ducks and other water fowl.

Across on the furrowed hillside, interlaced with deer trails, if you look real hard, you can pick out deer. With glasses, you will be surprised at the number you can spot grazing or just lazing, like domestic animals.

As we continue down the twisting road, notice the unusual rock formations in the roadside cuts.

After we pass Pinehurst junction, we enter a tunnel of mottled shade. On hot days you will find the ride beside the creek through the canyon a welcome relief as the air is always cool and fresh.

In this evergreen land there are a great variety of wild flowers, flowering shrubs and trees which associate themselves with a redwood region. You may catch a fleeting glimpse of deer, or a fox. Other small creatures of the forestland, such as 'coon, 'possum, or skunk are seen usually only at night.

We pass a big flat to the left, formerly Madrone Park. The flat where a large open-air pavilion once stood is now a tangle of small madrones and carpeted with trailing wild ginger and yellow wood violets. The hill to the right is of a different type of growth—mostly oaks.

Briefly we are out in the open where the creek pushes the road into a bend, then wanders off through the trees to meet us again at a bridge. First we must pass under "Hangman's Tree." The "hanging" limb of the big oak, though, was banished from the tree—guilty of having grazed a U.S. mail truck.

AS WE REACH the bridge, look ahead and let imagination transplant you momentarily to a section of the Redwood Highway. If you have traveled that scenic route you will more appreciate the fern-covered banks and the verdant green of ocean spray, hazel-nut and creek dogwood.

The creek is to our right now, and on the other side on the level place was the location of an early lumber mill.

Let's park at Canyon School, near the gnarled remains of a tree that must have reached well over 300 feet into the air. The little two-room school is unique in that it is located on a peninsula, surrounded on three sides by the creek. The children must cross foot bridges to reach their play grounds. The large wooded playground is called "Tinytown." There you will find trillium, green fairy lanterns and other shade-loving plants. Also at times ladybird beetles—millions of them if they are swarming.

On the hillside opposite the PINEHURST CANYON, near Moraga, provides a redwood retreat close to home. Its tall trees are reminiscent of the Redwood Highway. Yet, it is only minutes away. Sometimes referred to as "the hump," by commuters, its true beauty is seen by taking a leisurely walk. Sun Photo by Bob Yost.

TINY TOWN is the name for this playground used by Canyon School children. It is reached by walking across a bridge. The students at the school have a first-hand course in nature study each day. The area is also rich in lore of the early west logging days. Preservation of the canyon as a state park will come up as part of the park bond issue on the June ballot. Sun Photo by Bob Yost.

school grounds, most of the trees grow straight up, but the madrones lean toward the school, as though reaching out protecting arms.

OUR ROAD TAKES us past Redwood Inn and the picnic ground opposite. Old logging roads can still be seen above the picnic grounds. One hundred yards on up the yard, past the former location of the Hansen Hotel, a saloon and stage stop in the early days.

As we proceed up the canyon, our surroundings again change, redwoods give way to madrones, then to an extensive California laurel (bay) groves. Tall alders line the creek.

The road then climbs above the old Sacramento-Northern railroad tunnel, and takes a tortuous route up to join Skyline Boulevard.

From here is a magnificent view of our county—green rolling hills in the fore, Round Top lookout to the left and in the distance, Mt. Diablo.

When atmospheric conditions are right, even the tops of the Sierras may be seen.

A scenic Skyline Boulevard drive will then bring us to Redwood Road, over which we travel thru more redwoods to our starting place.

Mrs. Leloy District Sect'y Of Rose Society

Mrs. Alfred Leloy, Jr., of Lafayette will be an associate chairman for the annual Rose Show to be held at Lakeside Park Garden Center April 29 from 1:30 to 7 p.m.

Mrs. Leloy has recently taken office as District Secretary, Northern California-Nevada District of the American Rose Society. The show will be open to the public with no admission charge.

Roger Emanuels Is In College Concert

Roger A. Emanuels of Lafayette took part in a student baroque ensemble concert last Sunday at Oberlin (Ohio) College.

Emanuels, who plays the violin, one of 11 undergraduates to take part in the concert, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Emanuels of 3537 Brook Street.

He is a junior in the Oberlin College Conservatory of Music.

Two Make Dean's List

The 1,420 University of Colorado students on the College of Arts and Science dean's honor list for the first 1961-62 semester include two from the Lafayette area.

The total includes 399 who earned grade averages of "B-plus" or above—between 3.5 and 4.0 ("A") on the university's numerical scale. Listed as superior students, these young people and their parents received personal letters of commendation from Arts and Sciences Dean Kenneth E. Clark.

The remaining 1,021 on the dean's honor list were rated "excellent" for their grade averages of "B" between 3.0 and 3.49.

Students whose grade averages were "excellent" are: Susan Ann Fink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fink, 1011 Dolores Drive; Carol Sawyer McCall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Sawyer, 4015 Canyon Road.

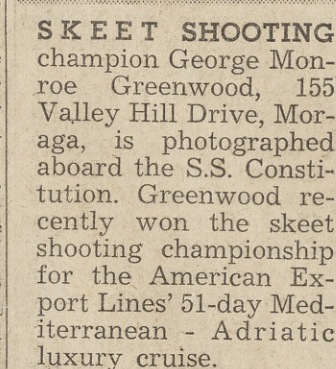

John Maas Named To Honor Society

John R. Maas, junior in dentistry at Marquette University in Milwaukee, has been appointed to Alpha Sigma Nu, national Jesuit honor society for men.

Maas is the son of Albert B. Maas, 3337 Victoria Avenue, Lafayette, and a U.S. public health research fellow in the department of dental materials.

A member of the Junior American Dental Association, Maas is president-elect of the dental school student council and senator-elect of the all-university student senate.

Open House Date Changed

All Happy Valley School parents are invited to attend the annual school open house May 3 to see demonstrations via the visual technique in their children's classrooms.

Parents should disregard the April 25 date specified in their handbook as this original date followed too closely after Easter vacation. Happy Valley School is the only K-6 school holding open house on May 3, from 7:30 until 9 p.m.

May 17 the Happy Valley School Band and Orchestra will perform for the parents at Stanley School at 7:30 p.m.

The Mad Hatter . . .

DECK the heads with new chapeaux for all of My Fair Lady-Oh's. Blow for one a full week's salary & put it on Post-mistress Mallary.

Fashion us a Bendel Bonnet. Not one with missiles spaced upon it, but one that boasts a rash of flowers, for Vera Bremer, Norma Bowers; Lois Pixley, June Beconcini, Claire Craig & Ward, Joan Zappetini.

PEGGY FIELDS & Ally, too. Have a hat. No, have a SLEW. A closet full of hats we need for Gwynneth Donchin, Emmarie Reid; Margie Tesman, Helen Stark, Caroline Hecathorn, Elizabeth Mark.

FROM the counters, from the casements, from boutiques & bargain basements, we've gobs of hats, some sooo dramatic, they're sure to make H. Gibbs ecstatic . . . Charlotte Chapple wax delicious & Gigi Blessing much mysterious!

We've garnered some from Christian Dior, for Marcia Henning, Win Gilmore; For Betty Pilgrim, Yvonne Meyer, a drooley tulley turbaned spire.

We've got some dandies of a pillbox, for Gracie Hanks & Sylvia Cox; A trunk of tricorn hats & derbys, marked Betsy Kilburn's, Peggy Kirby's.

FOR friend Pat Loughman, Melba Bray, trim sailor hats with ribbons gay; A box of Bretons, bows & brims, for Mops Roegiers, Jean Smith & Mims . . . For Elsie Harmon, Barbara Wayne, Hope Davenport & girls, Kay Paine, we think we've got the kind they like. You too, Lil Mika, Rose Van Dyke!

A RAVISHING & rakish topper, for Gretchen Howe & Ernie Hopper. For Frankie Gilmour, tie one on. A gorgeous hat by Mr. John!

Oh, choose a dilly, choose a silly, fetching hat for Inez Lillie . . . One that steals the stage from Tish & one for Mrs. Sage, that's Wish!

Bring on the hats designed in Paris, for Marg Worrell & Wirtabel Harris. The hats for which we took a scalping, Lid Miles can wear when she goes Alping!

FROM EMMIE'S swish salon adore, the hats we give to Elaine Moore, tall Dee Seifert, Mary Gohr, Stella Boyle & Leslie Thor.

Mary Rushforth, have a straw! Have another, Mary Grah! Likewise Chris Lang, Pat Dildine. Here are two, too-too Divine!

ARTY PARTY Garden Hats for ladies who indulge in chats. Leghorn yellow, Leghorn mellow. Lucie Hupp has got her fellow! Let us switch to Lil Dache, for Betty Chilton, Muriel Ray; Cappy Champion, Becky Svensson, Betsy Lohse & Jasmine Jensen!

AS FOR hats that go to town, you can give Tamara Brown, one that's soigne, very choice, to match her ritzy Rolls Royce! For B. Van Sickle's Model A, a hat that hugs & won't blow 'way.

For Ellen Leftwich, wisps of veiling, For Nance Dupuis, a hat for sailing, a sort of seagoing Schiaparelli. For Dorothy Barden, a Matchabelli. In velvet black to match HER car. (A regal classic black Jaguar!)

WE'VE hats for Dorothy Nickerson & hats for friend Jean Vicars & Jean Rosenthal, Pat Fearey, too, for Margaret Court-right, Molly Blue.

WE'VE HATS, HATS, HATS stacked floor to ceiling. Hats to make fair heads go reeling. Hats galore, hats by the oodles, to shape & drape on ALL your noddles.

Yes, HATS for heads of Thee & Thine . . . But not a ONE looks right on mine.

All the Eggs in One Basket . . .

SURPRISE BASKET: The moppets will gambol the golf course greens to turn up Easter eggs this Sunday, but the county sanitary crew came in for their own buried surprise one hot day last week. When Perc Brown, who lives on Camino Don Miguel, looked out from his terrace to see the Sanitary Crew working near his property (the Brown's pipeline runs along his property the Sanitary Crew, he was somewhat astonished to find the workers cooling off w/cans of beer.

Naturally, our Mr. Library ventured the natural question, "Say, where did you fellows get the beer?" (It was certainly the right kind of day for it!) & one of the crew rather self-consciously replied, "You probably won't believe it, but we found two cases of imported beer down in that manhole." Apparently, the manhole was the ideal cache for a golfer's cooler & according to the Sanitary Crew, they've found a lot of other things buried in the same receptacles but never such a satisfying surprise!

While Peter Rabbit's hopping down the Bunny Trail, the politicians are hopping down the Campaign Trail . . . Witness the activities for both parties that took place this Easter Week. "For One Man Only," that's the personal slogan of Ruth Jacobus & Ritchie Smith & other Republicans who were having a merry time office-christening their new Hdqtrs. at the little house on the former Trampoline Center property last Monday . . . Charlotte Chapple painted NIXON & California poppies on a sizable banner that marks the spot.

Alameda County Chairman of "Nixon For Gov." Ritchie Smith & his Betty were there brandishing the hammers & the paintbrushes . . . ditto Dr. Joe Sweet who jumped from his station wagon repeat w/paint, brushes & excess energy.

STAN PEDDER, Carl Uhlhorn, Peter Zischke pitched in to wash windows & the general fancy-up that precedes any kind of Christening Party. At day's end, donuts & coffee & toasts of the same were raised while Ritchie Smith ceremoniously cut the ribbons for the official opening of the Hdqtrs. Ruth Jacobus shares county co-chrmn. chores w/Ralph Hill . . . & the energetic lady, who's been swept up in the campaign work once again, cries "For One Man Only!" would she do it!

MEANWHILE, back with the Democrats, a morning "Tea" to honor the Governor's Lady Bernice is slated for May 2, 10-12 to the Redwood Lane home of Mrs. William McKee in Lafayette. Democratic women will hostess & bid the public to attend. A phone call to Barbara Reid, CL 4-0798 will get you more info.

THE DEMOCRATIC ladies were busy early Easter week, checking children & chores for the day to greet Demo. Congressional Candidate Chuck Weidener at the home of Mrs. Leonard (Marge) Roth . . . Susan McCarthy, Renee Judd, Betty Mead & Celia Luthy were some of those seen hunting for parking spaces along El Toyonal Rd. . . .

PARTIES galore have honored Jody & Bill Allen who move soon to Sao Paulo, Brazil where they've got an awful lot of coffee & a big new branch of Kaiser Company for whom Allen works.

Don't worry that School Board Member Ruth Gilwee doesn't know her U.S. War History. Not after traveling the eastern countryside w/husband Russ who put her through a rigorous test each day w/"tell me, which war are we fighting today?" depending on their line of travel, from Boston & Vermont on down through Virginia where they visited son Jim at college. The pair did New York & had ten days basking & bicycling in Bermuda.

THE BLOOMINGEST sight you ever saw: Grandma Lucie Hupp Baby-sitting her new grandson Raymond Andrew who's a husky handful of rosebud smiles & took his nap like a good man under the pinkest power-puff of a blooming Cherry Tree I've ever seen . . .

COUNTRY CLOTHESLINE & Thelma Harney scores again looking last Sunday for all the lovely world like a Blum's Peach Frappe, from head to toe, coral-peach all over, in a crash linen suit w/ruffled elbow-length sleeves, a chiffon chapeau like the topping on a sundae.

We'd better quit! Two cases of Measles this morning & one coming up! Like I said, April's one crisis after another! If I don't break out w/measles or Poison Oak again, I hope to see you at Orinda Association's meeting Monday Nite, 8 PM, Orinda School, Important, on the Community Property!

Family of the Week

Five Easter Bonnets . . .

Nancy and Vince Anzilotti thank Heaven for Little Girls and Easter Sunday, an unbeatable combination. It means lots of planning, perhaps digging into the hat boxes and raiding the clothes closets to see what might be handed down or used again. But it's just more pleasurable, says Nancy, to dress them all up new for Easter Sunday.

This year there are new white gloves, shiny straw bonnets and pristine purses for their five girls—Candice, age 7; Cara Michelle who'll be 6 in May; baby Joan Laurel (in her mother's lap) who celebrates her first birthday next week; Stephanie who is 4, and 2½-year-old Alisa.

The Anzilottis will start their traditional Easter Day attending Mass at Santa Maria Church, all together at the same time. This feat is not always so easily accomplished on other Sundays when the family adapts a split-system of getting to the church on time.

Sunday services will be followed by picture-taking and brunch with the girls' maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Reed of Alameda, then home to Orinda again later day for a festive dinner with Vince's parents, the children's paternal grandparents, the senior Vince Anzilotti and great-grandfather Ed Bettina who live down the line on Moraga Highway from the junior Anzilotti's home. Of course, the Easter Bunny will have been BOTH places to leave his baskets of colored eggs for the little ladies.

An easy-going smiling young father, Anzilotti is a U.S. Naval reservist recently called back to duty by President Kennedy. The full lieutenant is a naval aviator with VS 873, an anti-submarine squadron based at Alameda Naval Air Station.

A local lad who attended St. Mary's High School, Lieutenant Anzilotti majored in economics at the University of California. For his military service, he is on leave from Fibreboard Sales Corporation, Oakland.

A native of Worcester, Massachusetts, red-haired Nancy Anzilotti received her degree in Springfield, Massachusetts, formerly taught school in Lafayette and is now, especially during Easter Week, a very busy mother to the couple's five fine young ladies.

NATO Rep. Addresses Rotarians

The Orinda Rotary met Wednesday noon at Mike Lynn's. Speaker was Morgan Harris, a representative of "Action," a group in existence to improve NATO.

Harris advocated that all free nations join in a federation against the three great dangers in the world today. These dangers, he stated, are: Nuclear, economic, and communism.

Harris was introduced by Frank Shirey, program chairman. President Tom Horton presided.

Last week, Horton and Leighton MacGregor, secretary, went to the Rotary annual district conference in Sacramento. It included an indoctrination for officers of Rotary.

Prayer's Power Stressed by C.S. Lecture

Nothing is beyond the power of scientific prayer, Martin Broones of Beverly Hills, told a large audience in the edifice of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Orinda, Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Any problem in human experience—lack of health, lack of employment, lack of supply, or unhappy relationships—can be solved through scientific prayer, Broones maintained.

"This prayer is based," he said, "on an understanding of God's perfection and the consequent perfection of His creation, the spiritual universe and spiritual man. The calm knowing that all is under the jurisdiction and control of God is fundamental to scientific prayer."

A Christian Science teacher and practitioner, Broones is on extensive tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

His subject was "Christian Science: Religion That Heals Through Prayer." He was introduced by Mrs. Betty Anne Gordon, past reader.

"As we come to understand God better," the lecturer said, "we find how simple it is, how natural, just to reach out to God in complete trust that His power and His love can supply everything we need."

Broones emphasized that spiritual understanding of the nature of God and man is essential to scientific prayer.

"The fundamental relationship," he said, "which exists between God and man as Father and son . . . was fully expressed in the life and teachings of Christ Jesus. Here we see the effect in human experience of the understanding of this relationship transcending the so-called laws of nature."

The healings of Christ Jesus showed the operation of divine law, a law which revealed the nature of God to be wholly good, he stated.

Hats Off To . . .

Lois Flenner, Violinist And Avid Musicologist

A PRETTY EASTER LILY, please, to present to Mrs. A. C. (Lois) Flenner, lady musicologist, who is Concert Mistress of the Orinda Community Church Orchestra, which, together with the church choir, provided the true joy of Eastertide with a special music program of Faure's Requiem presented last Sunday in the church sanctuary.

The talented violinist, who also plays the piano and is a tutor of both instruments, received her Bachelor of Music degree at the Columbia School of Music in Chicago. She is president of the Berkeley Alumnae Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon National Music Professional sorority and will represent the group at a June convention in Bloomington, Indiana. She's also an ardent supporter of the outstanding Berkeley Young People's Symphony with which several of her music pupils play.

LOIS AND her husband "Chuck" (he's an electrical engineer superintendent at Mare Island Navy Yard) are active Community Church members and participate in the Clipper Club church group. Of their two tall youngsters, Lorrie, 14, and Don, 17, Lois says, their musical talents are somewhat dormant having been outdone by "a passion for horses and cars." Son Don is right at home UNDER a car, daughter Lorrie on top of a horse.

Easter Week at Last--- How Did It Go So Fast?

Easter vacation—here at last. It's kind of the symbol of spring, and a sign that June 14th and graduation aren't going to be long in coming—what greater cause for celebration! If you count the days, it comes to exactly 65.

It seems Easter week is no week to stay home, at least it seems that way from looking at all the teens that have left dear old Orinda for better places.

Nancy Bregar and Carol Goldsmith flew down to Los Angeles last Saturday, where they expect to loll around on those fabulous southern beaches and soak up some sun.

Steve Baker and Dick Sutcliffe drove up to Squaw Valley for a few days, and Nancy Englehard and Carolyn Colburn also headed in that direction. There is a question as to what kind of skiing they will be doing—it seems old Mr. Sun is doing a great job of melting the snow. He hasn't discouraged many from pursuing their favorite winter sport, though—John Lackey and Mike La Plant are also skiing at the Valley, and Karen Stafford and her mother spent last weekend there, too.

Looks like the competition between the beach and the mountains is great. Carol Gilmore, Carol Troy and DeeDee Davis headed for Carmel, where they will spend a fabulous week. Sherry Odenthal and her family went down "Mexico way" to enjoy some of those out-of-the-way places. Cathie Oliphant and Sue Hancock spent a few days in the city with Cathie's grandmother where they shopped, and sunned on the beach.

This beautiful weather just seems to bring about beach parties. To celebrate their week of freedom, the Rat Pack and dates enjoyed the sea and sand last Saturday. Pam Pearson and John Reilly, Jackie Villata and Skip Spaich, Jackie Edenhorn and John Cooper, Joan Barnes and Bill Schwark, Sharon Hucks-werlen, Roger Howard, Bonnie Kent and Sam De Franco, June White and Dave Parish, Pat Canfield, Greg Peterson, and many more braved the ocean fog and had a great day. Sue Hammond was one of the few girls who was able to stand that cold Pacific water.

Last Friday night was the Wheel Club's annual dance. Set to the theme of the Roaring 20's, the dance was quite a success. Among the many couples there were Cindy Gravelle and Mike Smyth, Byrness Thraikill and Gary Rose, Sue Fernston and Dean Hilger, Toni Ayres and Doug Hamilton, Terry Palmquist and Bob Martin, and scads more.

It seems our baseball team is really doing well with three straight league wins. Let's see everyone out there to root the team towards that championship.

Seniors—don't forget that Senior All Night money!

Ask Big Budget

An increase of nearly $130,000 necessary to take care of additional teachers and to provide for pay increases for office personnel and teachers was proposed in the 1962-63 budget for the operation of the county superintendent's office.

The budget will provide additional teachers for the school at Contra Costa County Boys' Rehabilitation Center, Byron. It will also provide teachers for an additional class at the Valley School for severely mentally retarded at Alamo.

Assistant County Superintendent Harold De Fraga, who prepared the budget, said the county plans to increase the population of the boys' center from 20 to 40 as facilities are expanded in the coming year, making a third teacher necessary.

A SECOND class is anticipated at the Valley School because of the number of children presently on the waiting list. Classes for severely mentally retarded children are limited to 12 by state law.

As approved by the County Board of Education, the budget would also provide a five per cent increase in salary for office personnel and $2000 each for teachers in the special schools. There are approximately 30 non-certificated employees and 20 teachers.

The proposed budget for next year is $954,611, as compared with the actual expenditure in 1960-61 of $825,383.

Mimi Loomis Is Chosen Delegate

Mimi Loomis, Miramonte junior, has been named as the school's delegate to attend Girls' State, at Sacramento State College, this June.

Selected by faculty vote as outstanding in leadership, character and citizenship, courage, honesty and scholastic superiority," Mimi will take part in the "mock state" program to practice governmental procedures.

Each high school sends one representative to Girls' State. This youth-in-government program is sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

During her three years at Miramonte, Mimi has served as chairman of the junior prom, secretary of the junior class, member of student council and of rally committee, and reporter for the school newspaper, The Mirador.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Loomis of Moraga.

Col. Syslo Earns Degree

Col. Benedict F. Syslo of Orinda was among 78 members of the 1962 graduating class of the Far East Division of the University of Maryland to receive baccalaureate degrees during a commencement held recently in Tokyo, Japan.

Col. Syslo, his wife Elizabeth and their six children are temporarily living at Tachikawa Air Base, Japan. The children are: Phillip, age 13; Gregory, 11; Tommy, 7; Theresa, 6; Rosemary, 3, and Patricia, 1.

Bob Boosts Beards, Bands

By VIC RUGH

No matter how the Walnut Creek city council election came out Tuesday night—Robert G. Pelusi figured he would win or lose by a whisker!

In fact, hundreds of voters who did not know Pelusi personally, probably felt an acquaintance that they couldn't quite pin down, a feeling of having met or seen him before.

They were right! Pelusi's face, with its imposing beard, has appeared many times in TV westerns and, according to press plans, he will be starred in a weekly Sacramento television program beginning next fall.

Actually, Pelusi is a graduate engineer who for the past 21 years has operated and owned The Meter Calibrating and Service Company, providing mobile equipment for testing jet fuels, missile fuels and solid propellants for missiles.

HIS BACKGROUND has been invaluable while serving as a member of the Walnut Creek Planning Commission. He not only has an engineering degree from the University of California, but also has a degree in hydraulic engineering from the University of Vienna.

But his entertainment ability has always vied for equal time in his life.

Pelusi worked his way through college by playing with dance bands. Not just ordinary pickup combos designed to provide music for lodge or fraternity parties, but big name bands.

Slapping a bull fiddle or puffing into a tuba, the Walnut Creek official held down chairs in the musical aggregations headed by Stan Kenton, Glen Gray, Spike Jones and Tommy Tucker. He not only paid his college expenses in this manner, but also earned an excellent reputation as a bass player.

PELUSI STILL does a bit of bass slapping, nearly every weekend, with a Dixieland band which he directs. And the music is turned out for one of his favorite projects on a no-cost basis—juvenile recreation.

The big, burly, bewhiskered gent who has worn many a sheriff's badge in the current crop of "adult westerns," loves kids—and he worries about them.

In between trips to Hollywood for appearances in "The Rifleman," "Restless Gun" and "Bonanza," Pelusi devotes as much time as he can to various youth organizations. His band is always available for worthy causes.

Bob, as nearly everyone calls him, has a reason for interest in the youth of the community. With his wife, Lucille, who is a registered nurse, he has raised four daughters.

TWO OF THEM, Virginia and Marilyn, are married. A third, Jeanette, is a school teacher, and there's the baby of the family, 14-year-old Sharon, still at home.

At their home, 1915 Riviera Avenue, there's an example of two of Pelusi's hobbies—youth and antique cars. It's a bright red 1914 Seagrave fire engine which weighs seven and one-half tons and has a top speed of 35 miles per hour.

"I've given more than 35,000 youngsters a ride on that buggy," Bob admitted, adding: "That's during the five years that I've owned it, and the monster eats up gasoline at the rate of a gallon per mile."

Walnut Creek's own competitor for Monte Woolley honors has appeared at many PTA and charity meetings to speak on behalf of youth problems.

HE'S ALSO appeared on TV in this area for the same purpose, getting on channels two, three and the Al Collins show on channel seven.

"A lot of folks asked me why I didn't shave off my beard for the city council campaign," mused Pelusi. "Not only would I have lost my identity—I'd also have lost some extra work in television."

He got into the TV business quite naturally. He was a college pal of Howard Christy, well known producer. In fact, the two men played football together.

A small part on a "Wagon Train" episode led to his becoming a frequent bit player. Jeff DeBennig, a Walnut Creek home-towner who made good in the flicker city, helped along the way with several other TV opportunities.

PELUSI IS proud of his beard and justly so. It is rich and luxuriant, well streaked with gray. He keeps it trimmed natty and casually mentioned:

"Did you know there are more than 80 nationally famous business leaders who wear whiskers? They're becoming more popular all the time."

What does the future hold? "I'm going to have lots of time to devote to civic and youth work," Pelusi pointed out. "My firm has been sold—every bit of it and that means mobile units in 15 western states—and we're just waiting on the final signing of contracts by a big eastern corporation."

Of course, Pelusi isn't going to lose all of his outside interests. He has a ranch near Aquila, Arizona, only 15 miles away from Wickenburg.

If he gets bored with being a TV cowboy sheriff he can always go out to the ranch and devote some time to the quarter horses and white face cattle he raises there.

He may be "the beard" but never "the bored."

Work with your schools and PTA or Parents Club. Your child's education is of prime importance.

DEPARTING JUNE 14, 1962

ITINERARY

Thursday, JUNE 14—SAN FRANCISCO: Depart International Airport via United Mainliner Jet Flight in the morning. NEW YORK: Arrive International Airport early afternoon after a 4 1/2 hour non-stop flight. Depart International Airport in the evening via KLM ROYAL 8 Jet Flight.

Friday, JUNE 15—AMSTERDAM: Arrive in The Netherlands after a 6 hour non-stop flight. Transfer to hotel. Remainder of day at leisure.

Saturday, JUNE 16—AMSTERDAM: Morning city sightseeing tour includes a drive around old and modern Amsterdam along the canals (grachten), through the old Jewish Quarter, to visit the Rijksmuseum with its Rembrandt masterpieces, the Royal Palace, Rembrandt's House, the Old Church and the Exchange.

Afternoon excursion to VOLENDAM and MARKEN. Depart from the hotel to Volendam—the beautiful fishermen's village—and the Isle of Marken, with its inhabitants in their isolation maintaining their old costumes and customs; outward via Broek in Waterland visiting a cheese factory and back again via Mankkendam and Edam, the dead cities of the Zuiderzee, reminding us of the times of yore.

Sunday, JUNE 17—COLOGNE: Morning at leisure in Amsterdam. Afternoon departure by private motorcoach through Southern Holland into Germany, driving via the industrial Ruhr area. Arrive at the Cathedral city of COLOGNE, situated picturesquely on the banks of the Rhine.

Monday, JUNE 18—HEIDELBERG: Depart Cologne after a visit to the magnificent Cathedral. Proceed via Bonn, capital of Western Germany, to BAD NIEDERBREISIG for embarkation on the Rhine Steamer. Passing countless fairylake castles perched high on top of the vineyard-covered slopes rising steeply on each side of the river will make this trip up the Rhine an unforgettable event. Disembarking at ST. GOAR, the journey is continued by bus to the medieval University city of HEIDELBERG.

Tuesday, JUNE 19—LUCERNE: Depart Heidelberg for a drive through the heart of the beautiful Black Forest to SCHAFFHAUSEN where the border is crossed into Switzerland. After a short stop to admire the majestic Rhine Falls, continue via ZURICH TO LUZERNE, picturesquely situated on Lake Lucerne.

Wednesday, JUNE 20—LUCERNE: Morning sightseeing drive through the city by motorcoach to the ancient Chapel Bridge dating from 1333 and the Dance of Death Bridge built in 1407 with interesting paintings hung on the beams; Thorvaldsen's unique Lion Monument dedicated to the Swiss Guard which defended the Tuileries during the French Revolution; the medieval walls enclosing one side of the city; and the 16th-Century Town Hall. The drive concludes with a trip through the surrounding hills for an entrancing view of the city, lake and mountains.

Thursday, JUNE 21—INNSBRUCK: Depart Lucerne, continuing through the beautiful Alpine scenery to the little Principality of LIECHTENSTEIN. Luncheon is taken in Vaduz, the capital. Crossing into Austria, drive through the Austrian Tyrol area to its charming capital of INNSBRUCK.

Friday, JUNE 22—VENICE: Depart Innsbruck across the Brenner Pass and then for a unique drive through the majestic Dolomites into Italy. After luncheon, which will be taken at CORTINA, descend into the Northern Plains, continuing to VENICE.

Saturday, JUNE 23—VENICE: Morning city tour on foot to St. Mark's Square and the beautiful Church of St. Mark with its wealth of decoration, considered the most celebrated building in Venice; the magnificent 14th Century Doge's Palace including the Ducal Apartments; then a short walk to the Bridge of Sighs, Piombi Prisons and the Glass Works. Afternoon at leisure.

Sunday, JUNE 24—FLORENCE: Depart Venice for PADUA, where the Basilica of St. Anthony will be visited before continuing to RAVENNA, famous for its mosaics and Theodoric's Mausoleum. Continue to FLORENCE.

Monday, JUNE 25—FLORENCE: Morning city sightseeing passing the Church of St. Laurence, Medici Chapels containing many of Michelangelo's works, Cathedral and Baptistery, Giotto's Belfry. Buying Same Land Twice Not Wise

The expansion of our county park system is a high priority item. But is it necessary to spend some 2½ millions in bond issue money buying "surplus" East Bay Municipal District land?

There appears to be much EBMUD land which is not going on the open market and which might be obtained for public use through a lease of joint tenancy arrangement.

The $2½ millions labeled for the purchase of 2763 EBMUD acres near San Pablo reservoir, in Briones Hills and Redwood Canyon, is fully half of the $5 millions labeled for all land acquisition in the $7.5 million bond issue.

The bond issue will go to the voters on June 5.

County Park Director Duane (Doc) Mattison says that this land will be declared surplus by EBMUD in the near future, and will then be thrown on the open market where private purchase for development would follow.

BUT BEFORE the people vote for a bond issue which involves buying land already owned by a public, tax-collecting agency (EBMUD), the possibilities of creating recreation areas under the water district's already-granted legal authority should be explored.

Such an arrangement, avoiding a situation where the people through their taxing agencies are buying the same land twice, has already been adopted by EBMUD at the "Pardee Reservoir Recreation Area."

And a similar plan has been proposed by a committee for the Lafayette Reservoir.

At Pardee, EBMUD operates an impressive recreation facility, including parking areas, picnic tables, hot and cold showers, softball diamond, badminton court, horseshoe pitching, children's playground and other recreational facilities.

RESERVATIONS can be made for picnic groups, trailer and camping sites. There are nominal rates.

It is realized that Pardee and other EBMUD areas considered for recreation are not considered potentially "surplus" and will be retained in EBMUD ownership.

But what about the EBMUD lands which are not surplus and still there is no arrangement for obtaining them for public use by means other than purchasing them?

Would obtaining those other lands through lease or joint tenancy arrangement make purchase of the surplus EBMUD lands unnecessary?

Pardee is a reservoir area, as is Lafayette and San Pablo. EBMUD is empowered under definite procedures to operate a recreation area with or without water facilities. We believe the important thing is obtaining the use of the land for recreation, with or without water facilities, at least possible cost.

There are objections to this belief on the basis that Alameda County voters helped pay for the original purchase of the lands for EBMUD use, and they would not be receiving the benefits from recreational uses of the land.

But we all use parks in various parts of the Bay Area, and many of us make full use of Tilden Park in Alameda County. Alamedans would have similar privileges here.

WE WANT to make it clear we are strongly in favor of obtaining and developing public lands for parks. But this $2½ millions labeled for EBMUD land could be well spent in other park development.

We want park development. There is still time to re-evaluate the park program and develop a new plan which will not involve spending public money for purchasing, public lands.

Draw Poker Ban Needed in County

The new state law pertaining to draw poker now on the governor's desk for signing should not be limited, in effect, to Los Angeles County alone.

The law allows supervisors of any California county over four million in population (meaning Los Angeles County) to submit to the voters a proposal to outlaw draw poker in both the county and within the cities. Until now, county supervisors everywhere have been able to outlaw draw poker in the unincorporated areas.

If the law is valid as limited to Los Angeles County alone, it would be valid when applied equally to all counties, including Contra Costa County.

WE KNOW THAT the new law is designed to hit at the City of Gardena, where draw poker parlors have become emporiums, big businesses with 50 to 100 tables.

But if the people's vote eliminates draw poker in Los Angeles County, will not this action merely force draw poker into some nearby county which is more lenient in its gambling laws?

Check It Closely

Registered voters will be asked on June 5 to decide on a proposed bond issue which will make new park lands and the facilities available within about five years.

The bond issue will cost the taxpayers money, and the tax bills will be higher for a number of years. At the same time, the people will have a needed parks system, one which will be harder to obtain a few years from now.

You should examine the details of the proposed park bond issue, the nine areas planned for purchase and/or development and the cost estimates.

THE SUN HAS opposed in its columns all efforts to open draw poker parlors in our unincorporated areas, and will continue to do so.

The problem of policing a draw poker table has no ready solution. A switch to another "game" is not difficult.

We feel the board of supervisors over the years has ducked the issue, and the regulations already passed fall short of the needed complete abolishment.

Pin ball machines create similar problems in our young, growing communities. The Contra Costa supervisors should pass an ordinance abolishing all pin ball machines and draw poker.

A Parent's Prayer ...

By JANE PUTNAM

About ten years ago, in Pasadena, a prayer for parents appeared in the school bulletin. Written by Dr. M. B. Durfee, then head of the Pasadena Child Guidance Clinic and a prominent southern California psychiatrist, it is something I have always treasured. Today seems like an appropriate time to use the rest of this corner to quote Dr. Durfee's prayer:

Help me to the stature of good parenthood.

I PRAY I may let my child live his own life and not the one I wish I had lived. Therefore, guard me against burdening him with doing what I failed to do, and when tempted to seek this balm for old wounds, strengthen me against the seduction of self justification.

Help me to see today's mis-steps in perspective against the long road he must go, and grant me the grace of patience with his slow pace.

Give me the precious wisdom of knowing when to smile at the small mischiefs of his age and when to give him the haven of firmness against the impulses which in his heart he fears and cannot master. In time of needed punishment give me a warm heart and a gentle voice so he may feel the rule of order is his friend and clasp it to his soul to be his conscience.

HELP ME to hear the anguish in his heart through the din of angry words or across the gulf of brooding silence, and stay my tongue from the words which would chill his confiding in me. Still from my voice and smooth from my brow all that mars infectious serenity and joy in living; rather let my face so shine that these later years will seem to him a promised land toward which to strive.

I pray that I may raise my voice more in joy at what he is than in vexation at what he has done; so each day he may grow in sureness of himself. Help me to hold him with such warmth as will give him friendliness toward fellowman; then give me the fortitude to free him to go strongly on his way.

Then as I see him striding forward eagerly, self-sure, friendly and in good conscience my grateful heart will swell with joy.

The Happy Song of a Well-spent Weary Mom ...

By MARIE MONAHAN

O SING A SONG of Eastertime,
A time for Sunday Best—
When Mamas yanking youngsters
Traipse the stores to get them Dressed!
All spanking new, from hat to shoe,
From bow ties to suspenders.
IT'S EASTER Time & Easter time
Brings out the heavy spenders.
It's up & down the escalators,
Shopping every floor,
In & out the elevators.

Fevered families pour.
Advancing on the Children's Dept.
For gloves & bouffant dresses,
For Mama dotes on petticoats &
HATS to brim their tresses.
See sailor suits with sailing boats,
In Wash 'n Wear for Tads
Pick Dacron Ivy League suits
For older lads, like Dad's.

THE MIRROR, mirror on the wall
Frames a fair reflection.
A Junior Miss in dotted swiss
Is making her selection.
The Young Man in his first long pants
Is transformed head to toes,
A pretty Teen is seen to preen
In red Capezios.

QUICK-SILVER slips a Toddler by,
His Mom in hot pursuit,
He's not the least bit interested
In a flannel Eton suit.
FOR Chubby Cherub over there
Engaged in precious poses,
Her Mama ponders bonnets.
Picks an eyelet trimmed with roses.

THE CASH REGISTER rings out a song
As business soars & mounts.
Proud parents blew the budget
As they bless their charge accounts.
WHEN Progeny are outfitted,
From out to underpinnings,
Then Mom & Dad are glad. They've had
A chance to show their winnings.
When Sunday morning churchbells chime
WHO CARES? Who'll notice that—
Father's wearing ANY suit & Mom
Her last year's hat!

Letters to The Editor

HONOR PASTOR

Dear Editor:
I would be most grateful if you would be kind enough to give us a strong editorial based on the following "raw material":

"Central Contra Costa is to be honored by a visit by one of the most renowned Christian leaders of our time on Tuesday, April 24.

"Dr. Martin Niemöller, one of the six presidents of the World Council of Churches, and well known for his opposition to the Hitlerian regime and for his unequivocal stand since the war, will be preaching at a mass service of the 42 churches of the council composing the Central Contra Costa County churches at 8 p.m. at the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church.

"There will be a dinner to honor Dr. Niemöller at 6 p.m. on the same evening at the Concord Inn. This will be a fund-raising dinner to help support the chaplaincy program at the juvenile hall and the county hospital which the local council provides.

"At this Easter season we would urge all in our county to honor this international Christian leader and also salute the cooperative work of the Council of Churches in ministering to the youth at juvenile hall and to our older citizens at the county hospital. Dinner reservations, $7.50, may be made with the vice-president of the council, Cecil W. Borton, 56 Mariposa Court, Danville, VE 7-5224.

"Dr. Philip Dauntan, executive director of the local council, suggests that $7.50 is a minimal insurance premium against oneself being in the county hospital in years to come and not having a chaplain call, or having a youngster in the juvenile hall, unvisited by a chaplain."

This is not a news release but a request that you play Dr. Niemöller's visit and the fund-raising dinner in a forceful editorial. I would be most grateful for any help that you can give. I would be most happy to answer any specific questions if you would call me.

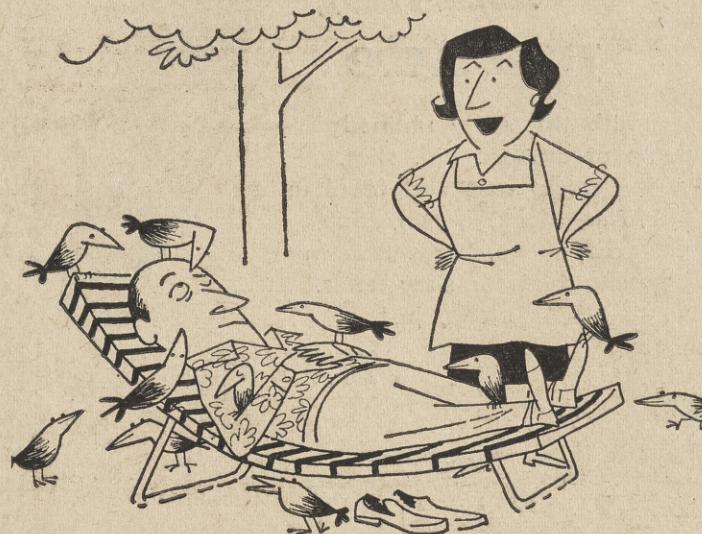

REV. PHILIP J. DAUNTAN.

McCUNN DINNER

Dear Editor:

I've been watching with curiosity lately to see mention of Dr. McCunn. After all the reams of newspaper to the junior college situation it is odd that The Sun neglected to print the important story that a dinner honoring Dr. McCunn was held which was wonderfully exciting and heartwarming and that there was a more than capacity group to honor him, more than 700 well wishers.

I think your readers should hear this side too.

MARY WORKS.

HE OBJECTS

Dear Editor:

From several sources I have had copies of an article written by a member of your staff, and entitled "No Story Here."

Well, there is a story now, thanks largely to the article. Inasmuch as little or nothing about the article was factual, I should like to attempt a truthful account of the situation.

Your reporter asked me some weeks ago to submit some quotations from recent sermons here at Hillcrest related to the matter of race relations.

Because I had made some clear-cut statements to racial justice in my Christmas Sunday sermon and in my race-relations Sunday sermon, I gave her two quotations from them.

Although only a section of one of these met her requirements, I concurred in her choice. She assured me that shortly she would send me a copy of the article she was writing.

When a friend brought me a copy of the printed statement, it was the first I had seen of it. Several statements are inaccurate.

To be sure, a group of ministers does meet at Hillcrest Church informally for lunch each Wednesday. Also, one of those ministers has been preaching a series of sermons on the Ten Commandments.

Also, the subject of the coming to Pleasant Hill of a negro family was discussed with some thoroughness one day some weeks ago.

Beyond these facts, nothing else in the article published by your paper is true. The story makes it appear that the minister of the woman who sold her home to a negro family was present at the luncheon and made some very uncomplimentary remarks about his parishioner.

Actually, much to our regret, the minister has never attended any of the luncheons involved. He could have made no such statements.

Further, the article implies that the man who introduced the subject of the negro family was also the minister who was preaching the series of sermons on the Ten Commandments.

Such was also not the case. The man who made the original comments is not quoted at all in the story. Further, my own carefully chosen quotes are not mentioned. Perhaps they were not relevant.

But it would have been more faithful reporting to have used quotations actually available than to have fabricated conversations between ministers who were not present and who would not have made such statements had they been in attendance.

Perhaps most serious is the fact that the article gives the impression that ministers sit down in private sessions and gossip about their parishioners, calling them "emotionally disturbed," etc.

To be sure, some of the clergy have been much concerned that the community welcome a negro family with generous good will. Calls have been made in the homes of various neighbors and of the negro family in order that the integration may occur without incident.

The article in your paper did not further this cause.

Glass Door Is a Problem Even If It Isn't Yours

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

News story from San Francisco Chronicle:
"A 10-year-old Daly City boy was killed yesterday when he ran into a plate glass door in his home, shattered it and was speared in the side by a large sliver of glass. Charles Chervellera, not realizing the newly-installed door was closed, ran headlong into it on his way into the back yard."

I was particularly interested because we have so many sliding doors in homes throughout our area. We have two at home and will soon remodel one of them, enlarging it.

A sliding problem

Sliding doors are wonderful but they do pose this problem. Even if you don't have the glass doors in your house, you can worry too. You or your children can walk through one, when visiting at a friend's home. Actually there is more danger with visitors than with your own family, who know about the doors.

The problem and solution were dramatically described in a recent issue of Time magazine. If you haven't already read it, here are some excerpts:

"Clad only in a bathing suit, Gary Hauptli, 8, was running toward the patio of a friend's home in Seattle. But Gary never reached the patio; he smashed into a sliding glass door that had been closed only minutes before.

A sharp problem

"The thin glass exploded in a shower of jagged fragments. It took doctors two hours to make the 64 stitches in Gary's head, wrists and legs.

"His father, Jack Hauptli, an assistant city editor of the Seattle Times, started checking, in a matter of days came up with a list of 18 other children and adults who had been involved in glass-door accidents in the Seattle area.

"Among them: Harold Emery, 15, who slashed his left eye after plowing through a glass panel; Charles Russell, 9, who pivoted into a door, died after severing an artery in his knee.

A universal problem?

"Obviously what happened in Seattle has been happening elsewhere in the U.S. No subdivision worth its fancy name comes without hundreds of sliding doors to 'bring the outdoors indoors.'

"After a year and a half of goading by Jack Hauptli, the Seattle city council has finally adopted an ordinance requiring home builders to use sliding glass doors of laminated glass (which will not fall out of its frame if broken), tempered glass (which breaks into tiny, blunt-edged granules), or wired glass (similar to that used in industrial buildings). The cost to builders will run to about $40 more per door than the old kind.

"Spurred on by Seattle's action, the National Safety Council—at the request of the glass industry itself—has launched a study of the growing danger of glass doors in homes, with an eye to establishing nationwide safety standards."

Well, what do you think?

Letters to The Editor

HEART-FELT

Dear Editor:

Once again it's April, National Cancer Control Month by Act of Congress, Presidential proclamation and so on down to these well-known grass roots.

This is the month the American Cancer Society conducts its once-a-year campaign with an attempt by volunteers to enter every home leaving easily assimilated cancer facts and collecting funds for further medical research, public education and service to patients.

We haven't found an anti-cancer vaccine yet, but existing techniques already are curing about a third of the 520,000 new cases of cancer diagnoses each year, compared with only a fourth 15 years ago.

Full use of existing knowledge can push this cure rate to about 60 per cent of all cancer cases. Dr. John E. Heller, director of the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York, told science writers meeting at an American Cancer Society seminar in Phoenix this month.

So the game is worth the candle, and once again we're asking for your invaluable support during April—both to publicize this drive for more research funds to find the final answer to cancer, and equally important, to alert more persons to save themselves by fully using existing knowledge.

Thanks much for your help in this public service effort. We couldn't get anywhere without the press, and we know it.

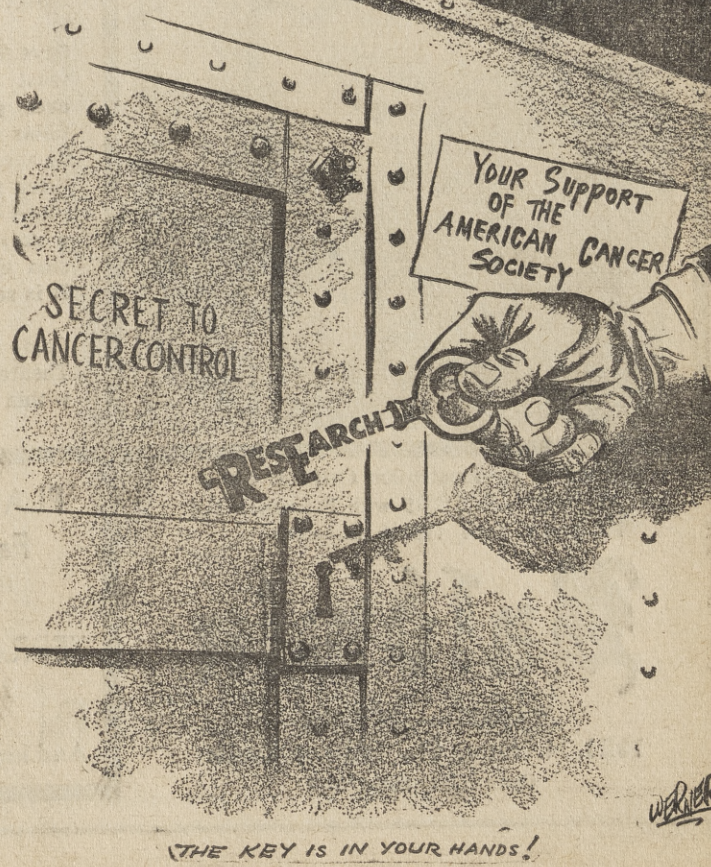

HARRIET C. AINSWORTH.

TAX FACTS

Dear Editor:

It is surprising how many of our most intelligent citizens think their county taxes will become lower after an area incorporation. County taxes levied against a piece of property are the same no matter if the area is incorporated or not.

GOP Women Plan Tour

MRS. H. E. GORANSON, MRS. GERALD AWES, MRS. ROBERT GOODALE
... plan for Lafayette Republican Women's House Tour
Sun Photo by Jim Dodge

The Republican Women's Club of Lafayette plans a tour of five Lafayette homes May 3 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. As added attractions, furs and jewelry will be displayed by live models.

Gump's of San Francisco will provide lovely Oriental brocades and jewelry at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert L. Bridges, 3972 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette. The Bridges' French chateau is nestled in a 40-acre estate. Tea will be served in the lanai, recently redecorated in Chinese modern. It will also be served in the spacious gardens, ringed with redwoods and pine trees.

Pineus Furrier will provide glamorous furs to be displayed in each of the other four homes on the tour. They are:

Mrs. Rosana Freeman, 3907 Happy Valley Road—an excellent example of the ability of modern architecture to combine complete convenience and utility with beauty and charm.

Mrs. Gerald Awes, 4146 Canyon Road—4000 square feet of subdued elegance, featuring a magnificent sweeping view of the Happy Valley area.

Mrs. Clifford Feiler—850 Mountain View Drive—a tree top mountain house belonging to a sun worshipper. Glass walls and a continuous skylight down the middle of the entire house were designed to trap the sun.

Mrs. Rudolph Tietig Jr., 1067 Via Roble—the poolside garden is the owner's favorite feature. Mrs. Tietig tastefully unites Swedish Modern, Early American and French Provincial decor.

General chairman for the event is Mrs. Robert H. Goodale. Refreshments will be arranged by Mrs. Leland Scott Jr. Mrs. George Martinson is in charge of hostesses. Publicity is being handled by Mmes. C. P. Pond Jr., Gordon Holmes and Harold Paige.

Mrs. Herbert Goranson is president of the group.

Tickets may be obtained from the Treasure Trove in Lafayette Square. Also by calling Mrs. John L. Farley Jr., 283-8371; Mrs. Robert Spragens, 283-2473 or Mrs. Richard Kent, 283-8163.

College Entry Russell Topic At AAUW Meet

"College Admissions Today" will be the subject discussed by Leland S. Russell at the general meeting of the Orinda Branch of the American Association of University Women Thursday at the Pine Grove School. A business meeting at 8 p.m. will precede Russell's program which starts at 8:30 p.m.

Leland Russell is assistant superintendent of education in the Acalanes Union High School District and a member of the board of trustees at the college entrance examination board. He is the only high school principal west of the Mississippi serving on the board.

Russell is also a member of the trustee's executive committee which meets twice yearly to discuss special problems. His current duties for the Acalanes High School District cover the fields of curriculum, personnel, guidance, and research. He is also a regional director for the California Association of Secondary School Administrators and has written articles on the National Merit Scholarship Program.

A resident of Walnut Creek, Russell was selected as "Man of the Year" in that town in 1956. Russell has served as principal of Acalanes and Las Lomas High Schools.

This discussion of college admissions is of particular interest to parents of school children in the area. The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting, and to meet Russell during the coffee hour which follows the program.

Bernice Brown to Attend Coffee Party

California's first lady, Bernice Brown, will have morning coffee with guests, May 2, at the home of Mrs. William D. McKee, 1271 Redwood Lane, Lafayette.

The coffee party is one of several affairs planned for Mrs. Brown for the first of next month.

Mariposa Has Fun For Funds

Whether parlez-vous francais or English, it'll be "Springtime in Paris" for Mariposa Guild's dessert bridge afternoon Tuesday in Alamo to benefit John Muir Memorial Hospital. Pinocle and canasta tables also are being arranged.

Chairman of the 12:30 to 4 p.m. affair, to be presented at the Alamo Women's Clubhouse on Danville Highway, is Mrs. Thomas Molloy of Pleasant Hill.

"This is Mariposa Guild's main fund raising event of the year, and we're going all-out to make it a memorable afternoon of fun for a serious purpose," says Mrs. Molloy. Every active Mariposa member has been assigned duties, and in addition is selling tickets under direction of Mrs. Russell Wilson, YE 4-5299, ticket chairman.

Parisienne decor in flowery pastels will be keyed by miniature topiary trees centering, with ornamental elegance, each of fifty pink-covered tables. These little trees will double as table prizes, according to Mrs. Robert Grieve, decorations chairman. At her home in Pleasant Hill, Mrs. Grieve will be hostess for Mariposa's April 10 meeting, resigned a "working meeting" of the entire guild for finishing of tallies and other preparations.

Mariposa Guild bears the name both of the lily and an area beloved by the conservationist after whom John Muir Memorial Hospital is named. It is one of the smaller of the twelve hospital auxiliary guilds, whose total membership is 400. Members all work together in support of the hospital.

"Fund raising for our new non-profit community hospital is far from ended," comments Mrs. J. A. McCarron, Mariposa Guild president. Although Hill-Burton aid assures that construction of the hospital will begin early next year, several factors make continued fund raising vitally important, she explains. These include the larger long-term loan than originally planned. It became necessary to qualify for the Hill-Burton grant within the time allotted. Possibly construction bid figures may exceed estimated costs, and a "good, healthy" basis of operating capital when the hospital opens is important.

Dances Are Delightful

Dr. and Mrs. Keith Sleeper of Orinda are chairmen of the popular Monday night dances at the Berkeley Women's City Club which are attended by several couples from this area. In addition to ball room dancing, the Monday night affairs feature George and Doris Clifford as instructors of the new dances. Quite a few of the group have dinner at the club before the dance session.

Among the couples from this area are: The Jason Evans of Terrace Way, Walnut Creek; the Don Hunters and E. Waeshners of Orinda.

Pebble Beachers

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene P. Ries of Middle Road and Mr. Mrs. R. E. Stege of Glenside Drive, all of Lafayette, spent a few days recently at Del Monte Lodge in Pebble Beach.

Fabrics Light as Feathers Featured

Lively lightweight fabrics will be featured in "Around the World in a Suitcase," the fashion show to be presented at the Therapy Center Terrace Monday. This first post-Easter event at the tearoom will be highlighted by the showing of new nine-ounce swimsuits that can be carried in a purse. Styles from the Little Daisy in Danville will be paraded before luncheon guests at noon and again at 1 p.m.

Miss Amy Jacobs, manager of the Little Daisy, will be among the models. Mrs. DeLeon Perez of the Alamo Mothers' Club and St. Isadore's Mothers' Club and Mrs. Werner Petersen, also of the Alamo Mothers' Club, will complete the list of models.

The Terrace, 1475 East Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek, is available for meetings or bridge parties. Arrangements can be made by calling YE 5-0121. Luncheon is served daily, except Sunday from noon until 2 p.m.

Watercolors, charcoals, and landscapes by David Cox, a student at the University of California, will be on exhibit at the tearoom until May 4.

BALDWIN EASY TO PLAY

Mrs. L. W. Fancher of 1662 Foot-hill Park Circle, Lafayette, is shown with her daughter, Lynn, at their new Baldwin Home Model Organ.

Says Mrs. Fancher: "This is the most complete organ I have ever played. The beautiful tibias and built-in Baldwin Leslie speaker are just wonderful to listen to. The true stereophonic sound this organ produces adds a great deal to the overall illusion of a large theater organ. It is so easy to play."

Come in and listen to this Home Theater Organ. Models priced within reach of any budget.

Group From Diablo In Easter Fair

Many Diablo Valley families participated in Easter Fair Week, April 16-22, at the Flamingo Hotel, Santa Rosa. The Crippled Children's Fund will benefit from the week of shows that includes the Athens Water Folies, the State Champion Berkeley Y Tumbler, the Diablo Valley Unicycle Club, the Apron Strings, guitar strumming folk singers, magic and puppet shows.

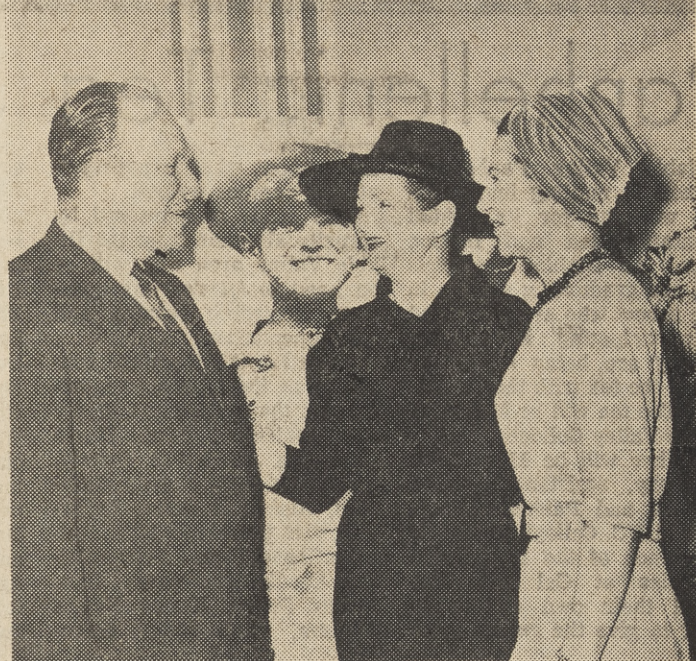

Orinda girls on the Berkeley Y Tumbling Team are: Carolyn Hacker and Johanna Ridelberger. Johanna has been state champion four times and placed fourth in the country last year.

The Athens Water Folies includes Lafayette girls, Pappie and Darlene Georgian. Pappie has been national women's solo champion four times and Darlene is the holder of Junior Olympic and Pacific Association Diving titles. The group also includes: Diane Herman and Kim Welshon, Danville; Judie and Linda McFadden, Walnut Creek, and Janet Tirrell, Orinda, also a national champion.

The Apron Strings, a group of Bay Area women who have been playing guitars together for the past eight years, includes Mrs. John Madison, Orinda and Mmes. E. Wallace Anderson and Johnson Clark of Lafayette.

The Diablo Valley Unicycle Club includes Pleasant Hill boys, Dana Auger, who does a magic act on his high cycle, and Russell Burch, who juggles on the high cycle.

Lafayette members include: Doug Anderson and Steve Clark. The group is led by Dick Rickon of Walnut Creek.

LOCALITIES closely associated with this year's Boys' Towns of Italy Ball to be held May 5 at the Fairmont Hotel are (from left) Robert B. Johnson, president of the Orinda Country Club and Contra Costa County chairman for the ball, Mrs. W. D. Higgins, Lafayette chairman, and Mrs. Paul Handlery, Orinda executive committee.

Pat Meikle Betrothal Announced

The engagement of Patricia Carol Meikle to Gordon Kenneth Batesole was announced Sunday by the lovely bride-to-be's father. From 7 till 9, close to 50 friends and relatives gathered for cocktails at the home of Pat's parents, the W. J. Meikles, 3367 Moraga Boulevard and heard the happy news.

A ball and chain with "Pat" and "Gordon" written on it, situated by the mantelpiece, supplemented Meikle's announcement.

The date set for the wedding is June 10. It will be a formal affair at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Walnut Creek. The reception will be at the Garden Room, Concord Inn.

Pat attended Trafalgar School for Girls, Montreal, Canada. She is a graduate of Holy Names High School. Pat was secretary of Town Hall

Suburban Jrs. to Be Installed

The Lafayette Suburban Juniors will install their newly appointed officers Tuesday.

The installation ceremony will be conducted by Mrs. Ronald Costa, incoming district federation of women's clubs president.

Mrs. Richard Butler, club president announces the new officers for the coming year. They are: Mrs. Harold Pfiffner, president; Mrs. Bryce Blakely, first vice president; Mrs. John Fitzsimmon, second vice president; Mrs. Don Bushnell, treasurer; Mrs. Herb Egli, recording secretary; and Mrs. Richard Butler, parliamentarian.

The Juniors will then hear a book review given by Mrs. Lockhart, librarian from Walnut Creek.

Council and a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma Honor Society while attending Diablo Valley College.

...the Bunny Trail

Mr. Bunny will need long legs to do all of the egg hiding on the agenda for little Contra Costans Easter morn. Among the many country clubs which will attract the junior set are Diablo Country Club, Round Hills Country Club, Orinda Country Club and on the other side of the tunnel, the Athens Athletic Club.

The Diablo Country Club egg hunt will begin at 1 p.m. according to chairman Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Watson of Diablo. The first fairway of the golf course will be strewn with brightly colored eggs. The starting point will be off the first tee.

This event will be followed by a buffet luncheon for the children and parents. At 2:30 p.m. there will be a planned bingo game for the kiddies.

There will be dancing and music by the Jack Horner Combo between 2 and 6 p.m. Assisting the Watsons are the Joseph Hendricks, William Owsleys, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Helfrich and the Robert Carpenters.

Eleanor Carpenter will decorate the clubhouse with old-fashioned floral push carts filled with potted tulips, Easter bunnies and chicks.

Round Hills Country Club anticipates more than 300 children scrambling on the driving range for the prized eggs. From 11 a.m. until 3 p.m., a brunch will be served for families and their guests.

Mrs. Leo Pasquini of Lafayette and Mrs. William Hockins of Walnut Creek have combined their efforts, with the help of other members, to see that Easter day is a memorable one for little Round Hillers.

Orinda Country Club's small set will be turned loose on the sixteenth fairway of the golf course at 2 p.m. to find what Mr. Bunny has hidden.

Entertainment will feature a dog act, "Arwood's Dogs." It starts pink poodles.

There will be prizes for those who find the golden eggs. Also prizes for those who find the most eggs, the least and one in each age group from 1 through 10 years.

Part of the fun will be races divided into age groups. They include: relay, spoon and egg, sack and straight races. There will be prizes in all categories.

In charge of the traditional affair are Mr. and Mrs. John Rieser, Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. William Jackle. They will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Berard, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schlenker.

ATHENS ATHLETIC Club's Easter Bunny will attract small fry from this side of the tunnel to the Oakland club for their annual hunt Sunday, 11:30 a.m. Getting the "inside dope" on where to look is Charles Mervin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mervin, 10 Easton Court, Orinda. The young lady is Susan Gardiner of Concord. Photo by Albert "Kayo" Harris.

Panhellenic Tea

Diablo Valley Panhellenic Council is mailing invitations this weekend for its annual orientation tea and fashion show. All Diablo area girls who are graduating seniors in high school who are interested in participating in sorority rushing are being invited to attend the tea with their mothers. The tea will be May 6, at Diablo Valley College.

Speaker will be Miss Edith McClusky, assistant dean of students and Panhellenic advisor at UC. Collegiate models from each of the 18 national sororities at Cal will also model their own clothes in order to give the guests some ideas about what is appropriate for campus wear.

This affair is sponsored by sorority alumnae from the Diablo Valley area who will be on hand to answer any questions regarding rushing and recommendations.

Plans for the tea were concluded at the March 30 meeting by the following officers and chairmen: Mrs. David Hagmann, Alpha Phi, Orinda, president; Mrs. Robert Gammon, Alpha Xi Delta, Lafayette, vice president; Mrs. Malcolm Chase, Kappa Delta, Walnut Creek, secretary; Mrs. Arthur Scheu, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Lafayette, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Richard Knight, Phi Mu, Walnut Creek, publicity; Mrs. Robert Horonjeff, Phi Mu, Orinda, treasurer; Mrs. George Pickering, Kappa Alpha Theta, Lafayette, files; Mrs. Sam Conti, Alpha Gamma Delta, Clayton Valley, tea chairman; Mrs. Cameron Ninekirk, Zeta Tau Alpha, Walnut Creek, assistant tea chairman; Mrs. Boyd Wickman, Sigma Kappa, Lafayette, refreshments; Mrs. Jamie Davidson, Chi Omega, Pleasant Hill, decorations; Mrs. Arthur Scheu, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Lafayette, reception; and Mrs. Chris Zacher.

Diablo Light Opera Cast Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Klitzner recently hosted fifty members of the Diablo Light Opera Company and their husbands and wives at a very lovely cocktail supper get-together. The party was held at their home in Walnut Creek.

Following dessert and coffee, the entire group adjourned to the Charles B. Dorsett home on the next street to hear story resumes and listen to several records of prospective musical shows to be presented in the near future.

The Diablo Light Opera Company is at the present readying its production of Gilbert and Sullivan's comedy "The Pirates of Penzance." It will be presented May 5 and 6, matinees; also May 11 and 12, evenings. All performances at the Del Valle auditorium, off Tice Valley Road.

Oakland Symphony Has Local Workers

Many Contra Costa women are busily working for the Oakland Symphony Guild and the Oakland Symphony Association. They are in the midst of their annual subscription campaign for the sale of season tickets for the 1962-63 symphony season.

Recently a luncheon was given to report progress of the campaign.

The area chairmen attended. It is expected that the season will be a sell-out within a short time. Mrs. Joseph B. Herron is general chairman of the campaign.

Workers from this area include Mrs. William Kanes, area chairman, and her committee, Mmes. N. Miller, W. H. Easley, F. N. Twining, Philip Bush, D. Coleman, and C. R. Moore.

For further information, call DR 6-5850.

Drama Tea Planned by Mary Doyle

Adding to all the color and magic of spring, one of the season's most delightful events, the eleventh annual Drama Tea, will be presented by the Mary Doyle Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center on Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Diablo Country Club.

Members of the unit will transform the club into a beautiful spring flower scene. Carts of blossoms and hand-made topiary trees and nosegays will be part of the exciting decor.

In this colorful setting, Jane Nickols will highlight the afternoon with a musical dramatization of one of Broadway's most popular musical comedies. Miss Nickols, who captured the audience last year with her presentation of "The King and I," formerly appeared with the San Francisco and Los Angeles Civic Light Opera companies and toured with the national company of "South Pacific."

The Drama Tea, which provides such valuable assistance to the extensive services of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, promises to be an afternoon to remember.

Tickets for the Drama Tea may be obtained by calling Mrs. Manuel Giffen at VE 7-2763.

Pre-Easter Sale At Thrift Center

When members of Linnet Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center gathered for their recent business meeting, each member brought lovely new merchandise for the Easter gift table at the Thrift Shop. Objects of art, jewelry, dainty compacts, cosmetics, lovely hankies, attractive items for the home, and many other articles, all new and boxed for giving are now on sale.

A rainbow of Easter bonnets, clothing and accessories for the entire family are in good supply for the annual pre-Easter sale.

Delores Ann Walker Is New Mrs. Lonnie Weger

Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church was the setting for the recent nuptials of Delores Ann Walker and Lonnie Dee Weger.

The lovely fair bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Walker, 170 Wooten Drive, Walnut Creek. She is a 1957 graduate of Las Lomas High School, and received her associate in arts degree from Cotter College, Missouri. Dee, as she is called by family and friends, earned her B.A. from San Francisco State.

She is a member of Almorna Chapter 214, Order of Eastern Star, PEO Sisterhood and a former Rainbow Girl.

Lonnie is the son of Mrs. Laurence Saunders of Ukiah. He is a graduate of San Jose State, and presently is a member of the Santa Clara police force.

Five attendants, a flower girl and a ring bearer preceded Dee and her father down the aisle.

Individual pew markers of white satin Dior roses arranged with ribbon streamers and sprigs of variegated ivy lined the way. Traditional white flowers flanked by candleabra holding white glowing tapers enhanced the church decor.

Dee's gown was of white peau de soie, trimmed with handmade lace. It was designed with a full, gathered reddingote skirt extending into a chapel sweep train. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a high scalloped neckline and full length sleeves. Pearl buttons from Dee's baby dresses trimmed the sleeves.

A finger tip veil of silk illusion was held in place by a large white satin Dior rose atop her blonde head. Dee carried a white Eastern Star Bible adorned with three white orchids and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a diamond locket, gift of the groom.

For a good luck piece, the bride's father placed in her wedding slipper a 10-cent coin belonging to her 96-year-old great-grandmother, Mrs. M. N. Blake of Kentucky.

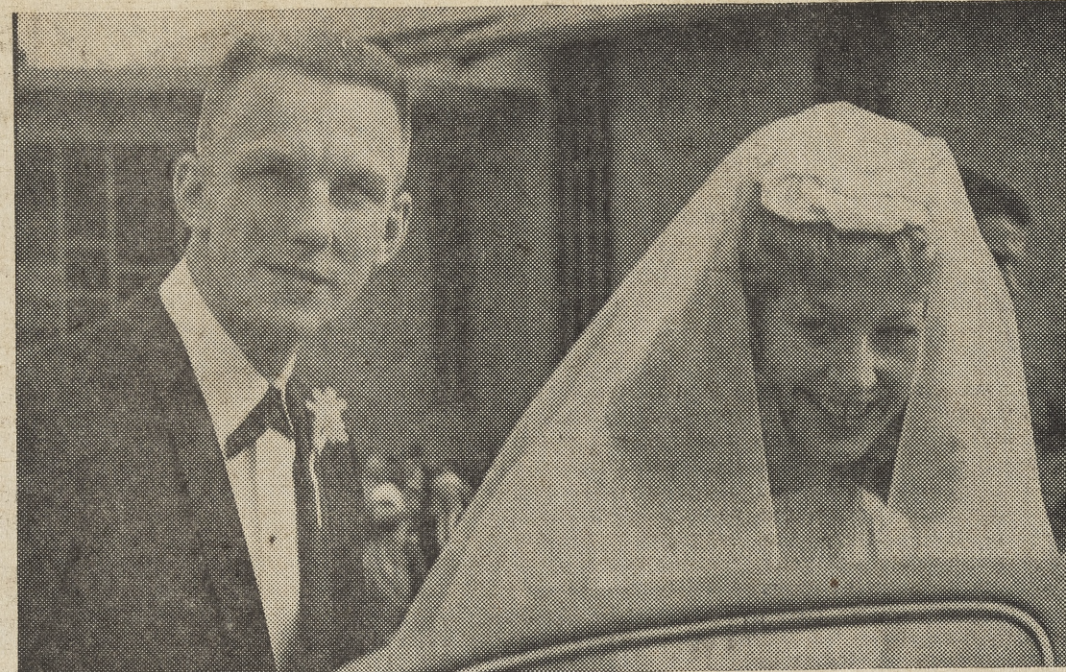

Mrs. Robert Curtiss Carlisle of Lafayette, childhood friend of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Carole Teskey and Jane Berry, both of Walnut Creek; Mrs. Robert Link of Pleasant Hill and Mrs. Joseph Orsini.

Mrs. Carlisle was attired in a Dior blue sheath of peau de soie designed with a matching overskirt. Her tiny head veil was attached to a two-tone Dior rose.

She carried a blue peau de soie muff arranged with blue and white variegated carnations.

Flower girl was Leanne Lund of Concord. Ring bearer was Gary Oates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Oates of Walnut Creek. Gary carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

The newlyweds are now at home in Santa Clara after a honeymoon trip to Southern California.

Popular Young Couple Wed at Orinda Church

Bernard Robert Norvell claimed the former Donna Jean Lane as his wife at a formal service at Orinda Community Church recently. The reception was at the Commissioned Officers' Club on Treasure Island.

The Rev. Chauncey E. Blossom joined the popular young couple in marriage. The altar was decorated with daffodils and yellow carnations.

The newlyweds are now at home in Woodland following a honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Daniel Lane, 25 Southwood Drive, Orinda. She attended Miramonte High School and Diablo Valley College, where she was a member of the Dianas Club. She also is affiliated with Children's Foster Care Service.

Bernard is the son of Col.

Festival of Flowers Set by Walnut Branch

May 8 is the date set for the 17th annual Festival of Flowers and Fashions given by Walnut Branch, Children's Hospital of the East Bay. The beautifully landscaped gardens of the trio of Howard residences at 2373 Walnut Boulevard in Walnut Creek will again be the setting for the 2 o'clock afternoon event.

Mrs. Robert Bruen, Jr., branch chairman, has named Mrs. Thomas Taylor general chairman of this hospital benefit affair.

The decorations, always a spectacular part of the show, are being planned by Mrs. George Dirth, Mrs. W. E. McDermott and Mrs. Richard Ricker. They have the enthusiastic help of the sustaining members of Walnut Branch.

Other committee chairmen working to make the festival a success are: Tea hostess, Mrs. Harmon Howard; fashion show, Mrs. Robert Wentz and Mrs. Robert Chance; tickets, Mrs. John Salathe; program, Mrs. John Sandman; refreshments, Mrs. Terence Ring; finances, Mrs. D. Charles Williams.

Properties will be chairmanned by Mrs. Robert Hollis, assisted by Mrs. Lyle Wilcox, Mrs. Frank Burkett, Mrs. Jack Unverfirth and Mrs. Richard Simensen. Other committee heads are: Prizes, Mrs. Louis Werthman; reservations, Mrs. John Griffith; and public relations, Mrs. King Croson.

Tickets for this event, which annually draws over 1000 spectators, may be purchased at $2.25 from any member of Walnut Branch. Also, by contacting Mrs. John Salathe at YE 4-9409. All proceeds from the festival benefit the hospital's program of research and part-pay care for children.

Walton League to Hear UC Prof. at Meet Thursday

Dr. R. A. Stirtion of Lafayette and noted paleontologist of the University of California will give an illustrated talk before the Diablo Chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America. "Hunting for Australian Big Game Animals of the Past" will be his topic.

The meeting will be held on Thursday evening, April 26, at 8 p.m. in the PGE auditorium in Walnut Creek.

Next summer Dr. Stirtion will make his fifth trip to Australia in search of fossils of the prehistoric mammals that once roamed the land "down under" and died under the swirling muds and sands of the Pleistocene period.

The author of numerous books and papers as well as director of the Museum of Paleontology at Berkeley, he has made many discoveries new to science that have greatly increased knowledge of past epochs.

The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Calder Is Winner at OCC

Mrs. Blake Calder finished with a 258-45-213 score to take overall low net honors in a 54-hole medal tournament at the Orinda Country Club lately.

Acalanes Gains Share of FAL Baseball Lead

Acalanes and Miramonte moved to a two-game lead in Foothill League baseball after last Thursday (April 12) competition.

Acalanes gained the tie for first on the strength of a 4-0 victory over San Ramon. Miramonte had a bye.

Las Lomas whipped Alhambra, 6-1, to even its league record at two wins and two losses to go into a third-place tie with San Ramon.

Del Valle climbed out of a tie for the cellar by defeating Piedmont, 3-0, for its first FAL victory of the season.

In the Acalanes game, Don pitcher Brian Allen blanked the Wolves on a fine two-hitter, striking out 16 San Ramon batters. Ken Scholler got both hits off Allen.

In the fifth inning, Allen put three strikes across the plate to five different batters, but Don catcher Bill McHale dropped the ball on the third strike on two occasions.

The big man at the plate for the Dons was Pete Schneider who drove in the first Acalanes run with a triple in the fifth, and had a double and a single in two other trips.

Devils Stretch Baseball Lead In CC Division

Mt. Diablo stretched its league to one and one-half games over Clayton Valley and Pittsburg as it defeated Clayton Valley last Thursday (April 12) in Contra Costa Division play, 4-3. The Devils are now 4-0. The Eagles 3-2.

Pittsburg moved into a tie for second place by dropping Pleasant Hill, 7-2, for its third straight victory.

Al Oxley was the losing pitcher in that game with visiting Pittsburg. The Rams were only able to pick up two safeties.

College Park evened its record at 3-3 as the Falcons scored three runs in the bottom of the sixth to nip Antioch, 5-3.

Nick Lujan smacked a single in that inning to score the tying and winning run.

Dons Post First FAL Swim Win

Acalanes posted its first Foothill League swim victory with a convincing 69-26 romp over San Ramon last week.

It was the first loss for the Wolves who had opened with a win over Alhambra.

Las Lomas, winner over Acalanes in its first meet had a bye from FAL action and defeated Mt. Diablo, 63-32, in a non-league meet.

Miramonte, the other member of the Foothill swim league, opens its league season next Wednesday. The Mats are favored to take the crown from defending champion Las Lomas.

In the Acalanes-San Ramon meet, the Dons swept to victory in nine of the 11 events.

It was a different story in the B competition however, where San Ramon's powerful team took 10 of 11 events to win easily, 68-18.

Norm Rhett won the 100-yard backstroke and 100-yard individual medley for the young Wolves.

The Knights B team won a close, 46-40, battle from Mt. Diablo. Acalanes 69, San Ramon 26, 400-yard freestyle—Tom Macabalo.

Pherson (A), 4:58.3.

50-yard freestyle—Robin Hunt (A), 24.5.

100-yard butterfly—Bart Rocca (A), 1:08.6.

ARCHITECT'S SKETCH shows the Del Valle High School pool plan with meet-sized main pool and adjacent diving pool. High school parents and residents of the Del Valle area are in the midst of a $25,000 fund drive to raise money that will go toward construction of a pool facility. The pool is similar to existing facilities at Miramonte High School and Las Lomas High School. The facilities will serve both the school and the community with the school district likely to provide the balance of funds needed to complete the project.

Two Local Semi-Pro Teams Die

This year's qualifying round for the state National Baseball Congress (semi-pro) tournament will be lacking a local flavor.

Last year two local teams, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill, both had NBC teams and hosted the tournament which supplies teams for the state tourney.

The tournaments locally were held at Diablo Valley College and Civic Field in Walnut Creek. The two local clubs were eliminated but were rewarded with "at-large" berths in the state tourney for their runnerup finishes.

Baseball fans will not only be denied watching the NBC tourney locally, but will also be without teams altogether.

The Walnut Creek team was disbanded because of a lack of players while Pleasant Hill, sponsored by the baseball association last year, has also disappeared.

Many of the Pleasant Hill players are now performing for the Concord Rebels in the NBC this season, however.

The NBC East Bay qualifying rounds will be held on four successive weekends in baseball parks at Richmond and Alameda. Twelve teams are in the tourney which gets underway June 10. Other dates are June 16, 17, 23 and 24.

Winners of the two-game knockout tourneys at each park will face each other to determine a zone champion.

The zone winner advances to the state finals for a crack at a $1000 first place prize and a trip to the national tourney.

Local Golfer Wins at Tilden

Mrs. R. Pierson of Lafayette was the Class C winner in the Fisher Iron Tournament of the Tilden Park Women's Golf Club played during the past two weeks.

Mrs. Joseph Guffy was the overall winner with a 155.

Mrs. Pierson had a 165 to finish ahead of Mrs. C. S. McCoy of Orinda and Mrs. E. Hansen of Lafayette, both with 167s.

INVEST IN AMERICA

"Money at work means men at work" is the slogan of Invest-in-America Week, April 29 to May 5. Now investing in America may seem like a big order. But actually it's a matter of looking at it the way the Invest-in-America Council does. They say: "Thanks to the money you put into savings accounts, insurance policies, a home, bonds and stocks, your savings are working to expand industry, make new jobs, and help you enjoy the better things of life."

The Ski Line . . .

Colorado Skiing 'Might' Even Compare With Ours

By HEC HANCOCK

Air Force Academy, Colorado . . .

If you listened real intently, you could almost hear the ghostly gang of ski troopers lustily harmonize: "Ninety pounds of ruck sack, a pound of grub or two, and I'll schuss the mountain like my daddy used to do!"

We were spending the weekend at Camp Hale, Colorado, the highest Army post in the United States. It was here that the famous 10th Mountain Division was spawned during World War II. As rugged, robust and tough a group that was ever assembled, I'm sure.

Now, only the bare remnants of its former glory remain. However, the facilities that remain have been utilized for recreational purposes by the Army and Air Force. An all-year-round recreational area for officers and men assigned in the general area and fine accommodations are available at a very nominal fee.

In fact, I'm sure the troopers of the old 10th Mountain wouldn't recognize the good life that prevails.

Using Hale as a base of operations, we skied Cooper Hill atop nearby Tennessee Pass. This is one of the finest family ski slopes I've ever seen. Served by a T-bar, the slope is long, gentle, and wide. While ideal for the beginner, the advanced skier can also have a ball for himself. A slope like this in California would be like owning shares in Ft. Knox.

Sunday, we pressed on up thru Loveland Pass to have a go at Arapahoe Basin.

Fabulous! Fantastic! Great!

This is an area that isn't too well known in California, but the skiing is every bit as fine or even better than anything "we" have to offer.

There are a series of three chairlifts, and a number of high speed poma lifts that open a wide variety of skiing.

Also there is lodging available in an attractive lodge, that unlike most we have in the Golden State, has a little Tyrolean atmosphere.

Situated only 65 miles from Denver, the slopes were jumping with skiers of all ages and shapes.

Blessed with a heavy snow pack, the season is now slated to run until June 3. Anyone planning to be in this area, shouldn't overlook this bet. Another pleasant aspect is the reasonable tow rates that prevail. Considerably under those that we're used to bouncing.

As you drop down the other side of Loveland Pass, which presses nearly 12,000 feet skyward, you come on to two more excellent areas, Loveland Valley and Loveland Basin.

While I didn't have the opportunity to ski these two spots, it could easily be seen that excellent skiing could be had.

This is big country, and the slopes here wide and uncluttered. Both Arapahoe and Loveland are within easy driving from several old mining towns that offer fine accommodations. Georgetown is one, and Frisco, you'll pardon the expression, is the other.

This is great country. The scenery is literally breathtaking, the skiing all that has been claimed. The skiers, as they are the world over, are friendly and courteous.

I haven't any intention of selling California skiing short, but if you ever have the opportunity to sample skiing, Colorado style, grab it.

Hibbard Wins Round Hill Tourney

In perfect golfing weather 168 golfers toured Round Hill Country Club's course last Saturday in the "What's My Line" invitation tournament for members and guests.

Bob Hibbard was the low gross winner with a 73. Jim Westphal finished second with a 77 while Jack Gregory and Bob Lehman had 79s.

Ralph Spinelli took low net honors with an 85-18-67. Tom Ferra finished second with an 84-16-68. Tied for third were Jim Spinelli, 81-12-69 and Eldon Mohn, 90-21-69.

In the Calaway handicap system, Al Kroeger was the winner with an 81-11-70. Second place went to Dr. D. McDowell with a yards.

DO YOU KNOW THE ANSWERS?

1. Is the cost of death as high as people say?
2. If it is, how can I guard against it?
3. If tragedy struck my home today, how can I raise the cash necessary to meet it?
4. What is the comparative cost of ground burial — cremation — mausoleum entombment?
5. What other expenses can I expect?
6. Should I seek expert advice now?

Foothill Baseball Showdown Is Thursday

SEVEN SPRINTERS are caught by the camera in a recent Foothill League track meet between Acalanes and San Ramon. Mike Mivelez of San Ramon (far left) was the winner with a time of 10.4. Another San Ramon runner, Lincoln Arthur, (center), was second. Jim Rinnie of Acalanes (third from left) was third. If you can count only six trackmen, it's because you've missed the runner closest to the stands whose legs and head can be seen behind the winner. Sun Photo by Bob Rush.

Undefeated Acalanes and Miramonte Will Battle

By JOE MCCARTHY

After a two-week layoff for spring vacation, area high school baseball squads take the diamond next week to begin the second half of league competition.

In Foothill play, Acalanes and Miramonte have both carved out four straight wins to gain a comfortable two-game lead over the rest of the league.

The two teams meet in a Thursday contest in what should be the most important game of the season.

With eight games left to play, Las Lomas and San Ramon, tied for third with identical 2-2 records, still have a chance of catching the league pacesetters, and remain in the thick of the title drive.

Alhambra, last year's league winner, is in fifth place with a 2-3 record, and only a do-or-die drive could put them in contention for a repeat.

DEL VALLE (1-4) and Piedmont (0-5) are out of the race, but could gain glory for themselves in the spoils' role.

Del Valle meets Acalanes on May 1, and Miramonte on May 3, as things stand now, a victory in either game could turn the race into a one-way route.

Both Acalanes and Miramonte have their strong and weak points. Acalanes has scored 43 runs in their four games, and has received good pitching. But the defense has been poor, and it could be said that they overpower their opponents rather than outplay them.

Former Orindan Breaks Oregon Track Record

Dave Deubner, a former Orindan, broke the mile record for Oregon high schools recently with a 4:12.8 clocking.

His time was just 2.8 seconds off the national prep record.

Deubner, a senior at North Eugene High School, had run a 4:20.7 mile in his junior year while a student locally.

The old record was 4:13.2 for the state of Oregon.

Deubner was clocked in 62 seconds for the first quarter and hit the half in 2:05.4. With a lap to go, Deubner had a time of 3:09.

The national prep mile record is held by Morgan Groth of Alhambra High School. He set it last year with a time of 4:10.

Deubner beat the second place finisher by more than 15 seconds.

The best any California prep has done this year in the mile is 4:15.5.

Dave Dunning of Miramonte tops local marks for the current season with a recent 4:29 clocking.

Falcons Win In Gymnastics--

In East Bay Division Gymnastics last Friday, College Park visited Fremont and came home with a 66-50 victory, while Oakland was defeating Pleasant Hill, 74½-52½.

In the Falcon meet, Tom Chapman, Scott Gardiner, Ken Poff, and Don Torregna all performed brilliantly, as each won or placed in more than one event.

Gardiner was outstanding in working his way to first in both the trampoline and tumbling events. He also placed third in the rope climb.

Torregna placed second in the rope climb to register his team's best effort in that event for the season.

At Pleasant Hill, Tony Schills, Don Douglas and Terry Whisman all performed well, but once again, overall strength turned victory away from the Ram's grasp.

College Park winners were: Horizontal Bar — Don Torregna (second), Mike Bish (third). Free Exercise — Ken Poff (first), Jess Guy (third). Rope Climb — Don Torregna (second), Scott Gardiner (third). Trampoline — Scott Gardiner (first), Ken Poff (second).

Diablo Women Win Second Team Match

Diablo Country Club's Women's Golf Group won its second straight team match last week, defeating Mira Vista, 31-17.

Teams A, B and D won their individual matches. Team C was a 6½-5½ loser.

Team A won easily, 10½-1½; Team B was an 8-4 winner and Team D was a close, 7-5, match.

Still Rings — Tom Chapman (first).

Parallel Bars — Tom Chapman (second).

Side Horse — Dan Newcomb (second).

Tumbling — Scott Gardiner (first), Ken Poff (second).

Pleasant Hill winners were: Horizontal Bar — Terry Whisman (third).

Free Exercise — Tony Schillz (second).

Trampoline — Terry Julin (second).

Still Rings — Don Douglas (second), Bill Taylor (third).

Side Horse — Len Van Noord (first).

Tumbling — Tony Schillz (first), Terry Whisman (second).

Mrs. Patch Is Diablo Winner

Mrs. Peter Patch of Orinda fired an 80 to take low gross honors in a recent Ladies Guest Day tournament at Diablo Country Club. The tourney attracted 104 ladies.

Mrs. Henry Kusserow of Walnut Creek was the Class A winner with an 81-10-71.

In Class B, Mrs. Jack Bowles of Berkeley won with an 84-19-65.

Mrs. Byron Royce of Sequoia was the Class C winner with a 93-23-70.

Mrs. George Shank of Lafayette finished second in Class A with an 86-14-72 while Mrs. Jay Sponberg of Orinda was third with a 90-16-74.

In Class B, Mrs. Fred Alexander was the runnerup with a 90-20-70.

Dental Hygiene Will Be Taught In Fall at DVC

Karl O. Drexel, director of Diablo Valley College, announced today that a two-year dental hygiene program will be offered at DVC next fall.

Although first instruction will not begin until September 5, he emphasized that the deadline for applying for the program is May 10. It is expected that many more students will apply than can be accommodated, therefore selection will be on a competitive basis.

Drexel explained that the new program is designed to prepare women for licensing by the state as dental hygienists, with a curriculum tailored to meet the requirements of the State Business and Professional Code and standards set by the American Dental Association.

Graduates will receive an associate in arts degree and a certificate of achievement in dental hygiene and will be eligible for state certification.

Drexel said that the new program was developed by an advisory committee composed of dentists, dental hygienists and college personnel. Interested persons may obtain more specific information from Robert V. Lindsey, assistant dean of student personnel at DVC.

Play Center Elects Fall Officer List

Creative Play Center elected new officers for the fall session at their monthly membership meeting last week.

Jack MacDonald was installed as president. Other officers installed are: Mrs. William Blackerby, vice-president; Mrs. David Goodman, secretary; William Christensen, treasurer; Henry Zacharin, equipment chairman; Mrs. Fred Payne, purchasing.

Wayne Henegar, maintenance chairman; Mrs. Robert Barns, publicity; Mrs. Jack Williams, editor of Journalette; Mrs. Clair Calhoun, parent education; Mrs. Robert Warrington, membership chairman. Mrs. Joseph Rediger will continue as director.

Creative Play Center is a Parents Cooperative Organization open to children two and one-half to five years of age.

PTA Gives Approval to Park Bonds

Thirty-second District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers has endorsed Contra Costa County's proposed $7.5 million bond issue for parks.

The district covers 117 PTA units in Contra Costa County with a total membership of 34,248.

News of the action by its board of managers was contained in a letter to the board of supervisors from District President Mrs. V. P. Anderson of Richmond.

She thanked the supervisors for their "interest in parks for our county and in furnishing needed recreational facilities."

County Park Director Duane Mattison said speakers will continue to address local PTA units throughout Contra Costa until the primary election June 5 to acquaint members with details of the park bond proposal.

Several local PTA units have already taken action in favor of the bond issue, he explained.

The park proposal, which will require a two-thirds majority vote for approval, includes $5 million to acquire nine park sites and $12.5 million for initial development.

Special Passover Service Tonight

A special Passover service will be observed tonight at 8:30 at the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, 3800 Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette.

The topic of the sermon by Rabbi David Robins will be "Today's Four Sons."

Cantor Henri Goldberg has arranged special Passover music and will be assisted by the center mixed choir.

Selections from Israel in Egypt by Handel will be sung and a string quartet will augment the organ accompaniment.

The yizkor or memorial service will be held on Wednesday at noon.

ENTRY FORMS for the seventh annual Pageant of Arts were prepared and mailed to more than 300 artists last week by volunteers of the Walnut Creek Arts Alliance. Pictured here are Mrs. Fred Le Claire at YE 4-6423.

Dog Obedience Trials to Be Held at WC City Park

Canine performers will take the spotlight at the Walnut Creek city park from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday, April 29, when the Mt. Diablo Dog Training Club presents its 15th Annual Obedience Trials.

An entry list of more than 300 trained dogs from all over the Bay Area is already indicated according to Michael Tarkington, the trial secretary. Admission is free to the unbentched show.

The American Kennel Club licensed judges include Mr. and Mrs. James A. Crump, Lynwood; Mrs. Ruth Barcelon and Albert Wahl, Lafayette; Gerald Orth, North Hollywood; James Frey, San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burd, Tarzana.

Classes will include Novice A and B, Graduate Novice, Open A and B, and Utility, as the dogs "go to bat" to score a leg towards their obedience degrees.

According to Mrs. Clark Hood, trophy chairman, all the trophies and winner's ribbons purchased from proceeds acquired from fund-raising events held throughout the year, will be on display in the recreation building during the show, ready to be awarded to the top performers in each class at the end of the trial.

The recreation building will also be headquarters for the snack bar catered by Dom's Delicatessen. Luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and snacks, coffee and cold drinks will be available on the park grounds throughout the day.

The "Year of the Tiger" will add a new twist to the Polynesian party, the traditional Hawaiian luau given by the club to honor the judges at the conclusion of the obedience show.

This invitational hoolaulea begins at 6:30 p.m. at the Women's Club in Walnut Creek with the Messrs and Mesdames Michael Tarkingtons and Robert McCarthys welcoming guests with aloha greetings.

Heading the judges' dinner committee again this year is Mrs. Henry Cabral who with Mrs. Ned Kerr and Mrs. Bill Koch will decorate the hall with colorful blooms, tapa cloth and Tiki Gods.

Hawaiian music will serve as background for the Hawaiian dancers, members of the dog club, who will entertain guests performing modern and ancient hulas, demonstrating the costumes and musical instruments used in the Pacific islands to tell the story of the fiftieth state.

Instructor Is Chairman

Kenneth Skeen, mathematics instructor at Diablo Valley College, was chairman for the fortieth annual meeting of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco the first of this week.

Skeen has worked with Charles Wheeler and David Glover, fellow instructors on the DVC campus, as well as 200 other special committee chairmen over the past three years planning this national conference.

The theme of this year's convention is to acquaint teachers from kindergarten through university level with the new contents of mathematics courses. It is expected to draw 3500 delegates from the United States as well as Australia, Canada and England.

There were 625,444 individual Christmas trees sold on public domain lands in 1960.

HERE'S THE STORY ----

Three weeks ago thieves broke into Jim SHIERRY'S and proceeded to heist $24,000.00 worth of the finest men's clothing in America . . . Louis Roth Suits, Groshire Suits, Imported cashmere sweaters, luxury alpaca knits were all among the loot. And all this just before the Easter rush. We were frantic . . .

AND THEN ----

we decided that this stock had to be replaced . . . immediately . . . so off to the East we flew. We called on our best manufacturers, told them of our plight, and proceeded to reorder our entire clothing stock. . . .

BUT ----

while we were scurrying around the-East, the police broke the case and recovered the original stock. NOW, we were really in a dilemma. Here we had just bought an entire new stock . . . and the police had recovered the other . . . Two stocks on hand and not enough room for both. Besides, the recovered stock must be soiled and mussed. We have to sell the original stock fast . . . and we have added slacks and sportcoats to make this sale a store-wide event.

Plan 'Mental' Week

Contra Costa County will join in the observance of Mental Health Week beginning April 29 under the theme of "Community Action for Mental Health" which winds up with a forum meeting at Diablo Valley College on May 9.

Dr. Philip Sorotkin, executive assistant to the director of the California Department of Mental Hygiene will be the keynote speaker at the forum with a panel discussion following his address.

Mrs. Fred Whelan, general chairman, pointed out that "an important part of the week's observance will be to give the community and the young people in the area a better understanding of the mentally ill and their needs."

Arrangements are being made for groups to visit "J" Ward at Martinez County Hospital; Napa State Hospital, Herick Memorial Clinics and Stockton State Hospital. Mrs. Robert S. Love, chairman of the volunteer committee, is in charge of the activity, and Mrs. Carl Wendt is coordinating the tours.

Youth of the county will be encouraged to become better informed about mental illness and to meet and talk with mental health workers on the job to learn the advantages and challenges of such work.

Scholarships are available for both summer school and regular sessions for interested students.

Dr. B. Otis Cobb, county health department, acting chairman, is working through the Contra Costa County School Health Council on a year-round continuing program to make such career material available to high school and college students on total health education.

Mrs. Clark Calder is in charge of the exhibits being prepared in the county libraries. Material will be available to students and to adults to acquaint them with the progress in the fields of mental illness and mental health.

SINGING OVER Northern California next week will be the pleasure of The Madrigal Singers of Diablo Valley College. They are, left to right, seated: Alice Lynn, Jeanette Heiser and Kathryn Culbertson of Lafayette, Carolyn Hill of Concord, Diane Luna of Lafayette and Maureen O'Malley of Antioch. Standing, William Palmer and Fred Gandel of Lafayette, Roger Thompson of Byron and David Hudson of Walnut Creek.

The Council of Community Services is spotlighting the week long observance with a series of luncheons throughout Contra Costa. "The Therapeutic Community—Total Psychiatric Community Care by 1975" will be the topic of the talk by Rev. Aron S. Gilmarin, president of the association, on April 23 and April 24.

On Monday, April 23, at the Riverview Lodge in Antioch, Gilmarin will speak, and Warren White of Pittsburg, vice-president for the east area and principal of Central Junior High School, will chair the luncheon.

CCC Civil Service Has Engineer, Nurse Openings

Contra Costa County Civil Service Department announced today that applications are being accepted for hydraulic engineering. This is a top-level position with the County Flood Control and Water Conservation District located in Walnut Creek. The pay is $862-$1047 per month. Applications must be submitted by April 20, 1962.

Requirements call for registration as a civil engineer, an engineering degree, and six years of increasingly responsible professional engineering experience.

County Pioneers Hold 13th Annual Gathering May 5

Representatives from every Contra Costa County community are expected at the Thirteenth Annual Pioneer Luncheon and Reception to be held at the Kiwanis Youth Center, 750 Allen Street, two blocks off Alhambra Avenue, in Martinez on May 5 at 12:30 p.m.

Those pioneers who have attended previous affairs are urged to bring with them this year others from their community who qualify, namely: a person born in the county in 1887 or prior thereto or a person who came to the county at least 75 years ago.

This annual get-together of the "old timers" is sponsored by Las Juntas Parlor No. 221, Native Daughters of the Golden West. Mrs. Alton Jones, chairman of the affair, says "Both the pioneers and the local Native Daughters look forward to this event with a great deal of anticipation."

In order that no elderly people will be missed, it is hoped that anyone knowing of the reception will communicate word to them. Mrs. Jones, who can be reached at 905 Jones Street, would appreciate hearing from those planning to attend in order that proper arrangements can be made.

The luncheon will be followed by an afternoon of visiting, ending with the awarding of prizes to the eldest native-born man and woman and the non-native born man and woman longest resident in this county.

Eastern Part Of County Had Measles

An outbreak of measles gave the communicable disease honors to the eastern part of Contra Costa County during the month of March with 239 cases reported compared to 10 in the other half of the county.

This area also led in strep infection but trailed the western half of the county in the other brackets. There were no cases of polio reported in the county, nor was there any whooping cough. Of 14 cases of tuberculosis, eight were in the eastern half. In the venereal disease category the west had 28 cases of gonorrhea to 9 for the east.

County Ranch Tour Slated Next Tuesday

A bird's-eye view of activities of ranchers in Contra Costa County will be the feature of a tour scheduled for Tuesday. Buses will leave the Farm and Home Advisor's office at 10 a.m. and return shortly after 4 o'clock.

Included in the tour will be an opportunity to see modern dairying, a beef-feeding project, commercial poultry production, cherry production test plots, weed control and demonstrations by 4-H Club members.

The tour is open to interested persons. Transportation is by bus, costing $1.50 per person. Each person will bring his own lunch. Reservations should be made today.

Plant in Bloom Is Choice Gift

If you're stumped on what to give for Mother's Day, there's one thing sure: you can't go wrong with a plant in bloom. And if mother is a dedicated gardener, it doesn't even have to be in bloom. Just give her a cherished plant.

There's no lack of color in nurseries, so check with your nearest California Association of Nurserymen member and see what's up and out. You'll find that May is a month of plenty.

If past years prove anything, chrysanthemums in bloom will be a favorite. If you choose a chrysanthemum, attach a reminder that when blooms have faded, the plant can be cut back halfway, set out in the garden and brought on again for more bloom in late summer or fall. It should be watered regularly and fed every three or four weeks until it's ready to bloom.

Grow Plants in Pots For Maximum Enjoyment

Growing plants in containers is one way to get the maximum enjoyment from them. Such practice permits you to move the garden right up onto a patio. It enables you to have a garden on a rooftop or on an apartment sun deck or wherever you will within reason.

Technically, there is practically no limit to what can be grown in containers, as you can readily see when you visit a California Association of Nurserymen show yard. But there is a practical limitation, namely, that some plants do well for a long time in a minimum root space, while others need moving to larger containers quite often.

BY CAREFULLY selecting shrubs that don't mind cramped roots, the gardener can have a container garden with a minimum amount of effort. To these he can add tubs full of annuals and even a large container or two with medium sized trees planted in them.

Year in and year out, the one plant family that earns its keep for its fine performance in containers is the pelargonium family—both the common zonal geraniums, the more delicate Martha Washington geraniums and the trailing ivy geraniums. No better choices could be made by the gardener who plants his first container garden.

The geraniums are all easily grown and tougher than most shrubs in your garden. Their reputation for drought resistance, however, is something of a myth since all of them do better with plenty of water than without.

Grown in containers, especially, they should have ample moisture at their roots at all times. Feed them, too, with a balanced fertilizer about once every month or six weeks during growth and bloom in tubs.

It's fun for the gardener to shop for geraniums and pelargoniums as they come into bloom, and at the same time, you can shop for a container to grow them in.

You could make a whole garden of geraniums, but you need not. Some other shrubs to consider for containers are: For bloom—camellias, azaleas, marguerites, cushion chrysanthemums, hibiscus, felicia, bird of paradise, fuchsias. For foliage only—bamboo, New Zealand flax, boxwood, privet, juniper, Japanese black pine. For ornament—dwarf citrus.

In addition, the wise gardener will have annuals available at all times and ready to move in for spot color as they come into bloom.

Benefit Monday

The Bonnie Auxiliary of the United Cerebral Palsy Association will have a luncheon Monday noon at Mike Lynn's Orinda Willows. Call HI 4-6917 for reservations.

A WEDGE OF WAX impregnated with dalapon grass killer is now making lawn and garden care easier. Marketed by the Dow Chemical Company as the Dowpon Grass Killer Bar, the wedge provides a uniquely convenient way of destroying unwanted grasses merely by rubbing the bar across a grass area to be eliminated. Tests show it to be particularly useful for edging purposes, as this gardener demonstrates.

If another motorist starts to pass you, National Automobile Club advises you to slow down to make the passing easier and safer.

Fuchsias Grow Easily Here

The tender beauty of a fuchsia in bloom completely belies the ease with which we grow them in California. Given enough shade and water—the two main requirements in our summer-dry state—these rampant shrubs will produce mass after mass of their pendulous blooms through summer and well into fall.

And if they are at their best in coastal gardens, it does not mean they won't flourish elsewhere.

Some Shrubs Grow Even When They Are Ignored

In a land of long summer drought, plants and shrubs that seldom get thirsty can come in mighty handy. Lazy gardeners and those with estate-size gardens should pay close attention to planting some of our rough and ready reliables.

If you are one of those who thinks that beauty and drought resistance are incompatible, then the California Association of Nurserymen has news for you. There are many proven tough guys with all the good garden looks of plant world prima donnas.

OUR NATIVE Wild Lilacs, for example, maintain their glossy green looks in spite of summer drought. They actually resent too much water and revel in stinky, unimproved soils. You can use Wild Lilacs widely: the prostrate Point Reyes Caenothus and Carmel Creeper are excellent ground covers on a neglected hillside; the lovely look-alikes, Mountain Haze and Sierra Blue make compact evergreen, ever-beautiful shrubs. Caenothus' blue flowers are lovely as the California spring.

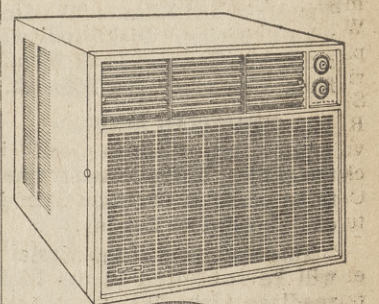

Drought resistant shrubs are often unusual shrubs, too. The Red Bottle Brush is structurally intriguing for the summer-dry garden, rigid, unbending and completely individual. The blooms look like nothing if not like a red bottle brush.

THE LITTLE-KNOWN, but highly-attractive Hopseed Bush is another of unusual qualities, having all the airy grace of a

PRESBYTERIAN
The Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church, 49 Knox Drive, Lafayette, will hold Good Friday communion services at 8 p.m. in the fellowship hall. The cantata choir will present special music for the service and a nursery will be provided.

Easter Sunday worship services will be held at 8 a.m., 9:30 a.m. and at 11 a.m. A nursery will be provided at all services and church school classes will be held at 9:30 and 11 o'clock. High school students will hold an Easter morning breakfast at 6:45 a.m. at the church prior to the 8 a.m. service.

The Rev. William Carl Thomas will deliver the sermon at the three worship services. His topic will be "Have You Heard the Good News?" The oratorio choir, directed by Leonard Weeks, will present the anthem "Crown Him King of Kings," by Van Dyke and Ritter's "We Sing with Rejoicing." Dick Frock will sing "The Trumpet Shall Sound" from Handel's "The Messiah."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the lesson-sermon to be heard in Christian Science church services Sunday.

This statement of the Master's will be included in the Bible readings (John 10): "I and my Father are one. . . . If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not. But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in Him."

Christian Science churches are located at 3422 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette; 22 Orinda Way, Orinda; 2 Eckley Lane, Walnut Creek, and at the corner of Grant and Park streets, Concord.

EPISCOPAL
The services on Easter Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, St. Stephen's Drive and Las Vegas Road, Orinda, will consist of choral eucharist and sermon at 6 a.m., holy communion at 8 a.m. and choral eucharist and sermon at 9 a.m. and 11 a.m.

During the 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. services on Easter the church school children will be shown the film on the life of Christ entitled "I Behold His Glory." At the 9 and 11 o'clock services on Easter each child is asked to return his mite box to the church and to bring a small flower to be made into our floral cross.

Tuesday evening the men of the parish will meet for their monthly dinner at 6:45. The speaker will be Col. Harold Gunn. His subject will be "Which Way Is Up"—man's relation to space.

Wednesday morning there will be a service of holy communion followed by a service of Christian healing at 10 a.m. Child care will be provided.

LUTHERAN
"Gladness of God" will be the sermon topic of the Rev. Albert S. Hidy, Jr., pastor of Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, 433 Moraga Way, Orinda, on Easter Sunday. Service of holy communion will be celebrated at 7 a.m. and worship service will be at 11 a.m.

Sunday school classes are held at 9:30, at which time the Christian parents class, led by Norm Andersen, will meet for the first of six sessions.

During the 11 o'clock service a nursery is provided and also a Sunday school class for grades one through four.

BAPTIST
The Moraga Hills Community Baptist Church is located three-quarter mile north of Rheem Center on Moraga Road. Sunday services begin at 9:30 a.m. with church school for all ages. At 11 a.m. the interim pastor will give the morning message "Don't Get Shook."

Sunday evening at 7 p.m., junior high fellowship; Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m., senior high buzz session: "It Costs Your Life"; Wednesday morning at 9:30 a.m., women's Bible class; Nursery is provided for Sunday and Wednesday mornings. Maundy Thursday communion service at 8 p.m.

All are invited to remain after Sunday morning services for coffee and a time of fellowship. This church is affiliated with the American Baptist convention.

COMMUNITY
Easter Sunrise Service at the Orinda Community Church will be held at 6:30 a.m. on the church plaza. Members of the Senior Pilgrim Fellowship will conduct the service.

Three Festival Easter Services will be held in the sanctuary at 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m. "For Thine Is the Kingdom" will be the Reverend Chauncey Blossom's sermon topic. Arthur Hobart will assist in the services.

Special Easter music will include "Easter Song" by Dickinson and "Legend of the Garden" by Lang.

There will be nursery care and church school classes through kindergarten for all three services. Other children will attend church with their parents.

METHODIST
The Lafayette Methodist Church, 955 Moraga Road, will hold Union Service today from 12 to 3 p.m. All are welcome to attend.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the Easter morning worship services at 8, 9:30 and 11. The sermon topic of the Reverend George E. Berry will be "Putting On Immortality."

Nursery care will be provided during the services. Church school for all ages, from 3 years through high school, is at 9:30 a.m.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD
Lafayette Assembly of God announces at 7:30 tonight, a cantata, "No Greater Love," will be presented by the choir of Central Assembly of God Church in Richmond.

Rev. Edwin J. Kramer, associate pastor and music director of Central Assembly, will conduct the 30-voice choir. Holy Communion will follow the cantata.

Easter morning at 7, the young people will be having a special service, followed by an Easter breakfast. Sunday school is at 10:45 a.m. with children's choir and Easter recitations.

At the 11 a.m. worship, Rev. R. A. Wilson, assistant superintendent of the Northern California and Nevada District of the Assemblies of God will be bringing the message. Rev. Wilson will also be speaking in the 7 p.m. evangelistic service.

Special Easter music will also be presented in the evening service.

CHRISTIAN
Identical worship services at 9 and 11 a.m. will be conducted on Easter Sunday at Lafayette Christian Church, 3419 Golden Gate Way.

The Rev. Darwin A. Mann will conclude a series of sermons on "The Events of Life" with "Resurrection."

Church school classes for all ages will meet at 10 a.m. A service of Christian baptism will be held at 4 p.m. at First Christian Church, Concord.

Morning study group meets Thursdays at 9:30. Child care is provided at the church. On Thursday the adult fellowship will meet for discussion at the Jones home, 1052 Laurel Drive.

Girl State Reps Picked by Local Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary of Post 517 Lafayette will sponsor two girls from local high schools for Girls' State to be held June 16 through 26.

They are: Pamela Martinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Martinson of 8 Hidden Valley Road, Lafayette, who attends Acalanes High, and Marior Loomis of Miramonte High, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Loomis, 284 Rheem Boulevard, Moraga.

The girls will attend the convention to be held at the University of California, Davis.

The delegates were chosen from the schools for their outstanding academic abilities and citizenship.

This project is one of many of the American Legion Auxiliary programs throughout the year.

The students have the opportunity to observe and experience the procedure of city, county, state and national governments.

This program has been in progress for many years to help our youth understand modern government.

One of our past Girls' Staters, Barbara Syverud, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Syverud, 32 Broadview Terrace, Orinda, received a scholarship from the American Freedom Award and is now attending a university in Minnesota.

Four Acalanes Students Rate High in Art

Acalanes art students have earned four awards in the recent religious art contest sponsored by the Walnut Creek Kiwanis Club.

Award winners are: Chris Whitaker, first prize, senior division; Power Booth, second prize and honorable mention, senior division, and Vickie Tronoff, award for the most popular piece voted by the viewers of the exhibit.

All of the winners are art students of Richard Keyes, Acalanes High art instructor.

The contest centered on two themes, "Man shall not live by bread alone . . ." and "Moral and spiritual values in a changing world . . ."

The Bureau of Land Management administered 84,323 acres of commercial forest land in the Eastern States in 1960.

Moraga Memo

By JANE PUTNAM

Put On Your Easter Sonnett . . .

The ceanothus are in bloom again (or wild lilac, as they are oftentimes called) . . . also the tame lilac . . . and rosemary galore . . . giving our valley the loveliest blue-violet trimmed Easter bonnet in the whole bloomin' parade.

Whatever happened to spring, anyway? We have jumped from the freeze of winter into the heat of summer.

With summer a little early this year, and Easter a little late, it's downright confusing. Soon, the big bunny will arrive and put us all straight.

HIPPITY HOP. The annual egg hunt tomorrow at 10 a.m. at Rheem Center will give the small fry handicaps. There will be eight separate events: a hunt for girls three-and-under; one for boys three-and-under, etc. In this way two-year-old girls will not compete with 10-year-old boys.

The Moraga Mothers' Club with Marie Wright as chairman, the Moraga Lions Club chairmaned by Dick Erving are co-sponsoring the egg hunt with the Rheem Center merchants. Frank Kerrigan of T&D Liquors is the big egg man for the merchants. No small task this: 1800 hard-boiled eggs to color . . . 240 pounds of candy eggs to hide . . . and 1200 bags of candy.

Besides two grand prizes, there will be first and second prizes in each category. And for the fifth consecutive year, our Mark, age 5, will not step into the winner's circle.

This kid is not about to pick up an Easter egg. Never would. There was the year when the big bunny threw eggs at his feet. Mark stepped on them. One year the big bunny tossed eggs in his basket. Mark dumped them out. He would lose even in a girls six-months-and-under category.

There has been some pressure brought to bear on Kerrigan to have a hunt for Daddies 21-and-over—using fifths instead of eggs. Kerrigan was willing; but the big bunny turned thumbs down.

THE PIE THROWING incident at the Orinda bank last week had its unsung heroine: stunning Sandy Rothermel, whom we are proud to call a Moragan.

Sandy is a clerk at the Central Valley Bank where "the dispossessed" threw a banana cream pie into the face of assistant manager Thomas State of Walnut Creek. When our girl saw State's state, she wasn't sure whether to run for the mop or call the sheriff. Being a level-headed type, she called the sheriff—and then ran for the mop.

COMMUNITY COMMUNES. The Moraga Valley Community Club holds regular meetings the fourth Monday of each month, according to President Charlie Wright. All community-minded residents are invited to attend. Next one will be Monday at 8 p.m. in the Rheem School all-purpose room. William M. Beezley will speak on the Orinda-Moraga ambulance service. Membership in the community club is $2 per family per year. Membership chairman Dick Kistyrka will be happy to welcome you into the fold.

Canyon Community Club met April 12 at the Canyon School. Mrs. Laurie Williams, president, introduced Rolfe Miller, head of the district parks. He spoke on the upcoming bond issue and the possibility of preserving our redwooded Pine Hurst Canyon. (Watch for Gladys Shalley's article on the canyon soon in The Sun).

PRIVATE EAR. We hear that the Berkeley police department expects soon to track down the Rheem Safeway robber. This same arm-in-sling caper has been pulled in Fresno and Richmond markets. Burdette Bushman, manager of the Rheem store, may be called in any time to make the ID.

It was the Safeway, once, that a newcomer pointed rudely to a tall, lean rancher and said loudly to her progeny: "Lookie, Junior, there's a cowboy." She was pointing to rancher John Sanders, one of the first citizens and finest gentlemen in the valley.

Sanders still rides the range from dawn till dusk. He tells us that last week after round-up, the valley cattle were vaccinated, branded, ear-marked and castrated. (And you'll see that soon in The Sun, too).

LUCKY LION: Moraga Lion John De Guarda, formerly Tarzan of Lotusland, has all the luck. At the club's Christmas party at Ed's Place, El Sobrante, John won the door prize—a pig. Upon his return to Ed's Place recently at the invitation of the El Sobrante Lions, John and his lovely Betty were enjoying the Hawaiian party when it was announced that you know who won what. Both pigs (and perhaps piglets) will be fattened for the Moraga Lions' Luau, tentatively set for June 2. That is, if John's neighbors on Donna Maria Way are oinkgreable.

Unlucky Lion, President of the Moraga Lions, Lafayette realtor Jim Barcelon, didn't have it so good last week. For the second time, vandals axed an oak on a Richelle Highlands lot in which he has an interest. Same day, his and Ceil's second grade Elizabeth broke her arm at Rheem School.

HEVINS, DEVINS! Ray and Marion Devin planned to celebrate their silver anniversary by going to Europe the first of next week. Instead of sailing abroad, Ray sailed into a hospital in The City for Tuesday surgery, postponing the honeymoon. This is okay by Marion, who says she'd rather be here "with" than abroad "without."

Del Ray School Parents' Club Elects Slate

At its recent meeting the Del Ray School Parents' Club elected a new slate of officers for the coming year.

The president's position in 1962-1963 will be shared by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd MacDonald. Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Patton will handle the vice presidential duties.

Also elected were Paul Hefernan, treasurer; Mrs. Standish Massie, recording secretary; and Mrs. Bill Stokes, corresponding secretary.

The Parents' Club has just donated to the school a new amplifying system and control equipment. It is now being installed into the new multi-purpose room as it is being built, according to current club president, Sidney H. Smyth, Jr.

The club is also considering donations of many additional items of furniture and equipment for the new school building. Finances for these donations will be provided by the annual Del Ray Country Fair, to be held on the school grounds on Saturday, May 5.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Anderson, club ways and means chairman, are in charge of this year's fair.

Local Student Co-Authors Business 'Definitionary'

David B. Williamson, a graduate of Acalanes, has combined with another University of Oregon senior to write a "Definitionary" of business terms.

Williamson graduated from Acalanes in 1958. His parents reside at 1014 Hampton Road.

Williamson and John J. McGinty, both finance majors, began the project last September and completed it after 1200 hours of part-time work and the use of 700 different references.

THE FIRST edition of 5000 copies came off the press the first of this month.

The 50-page booklet contains terms common to the business world, but not-so-common to those not vitally involved.

As an example, a person can learn the meaning of "polopony," a Gantt chart or a "oligopoly" from the book. There are 1200 terms listed in the book.

The booklet idea was hatched when the co-authors could not find listings of terms definitions which were being commonly misused in class.

The two students compiled the book of what they consider the most commonly misused words in 12 different fields. Included are: Banking, insurance, economics, accounting, transportation, personnel, management, statistics, marketing, real estate, investments, business law and production management.

ONLY FIVE per cent of the 1200 terms listed were known to the young men when the book was started, the young men estimated.

Following his graduation in June, Williamson will go into business locally with an older brother, Ray, who is involved in land development and business development.

The older Williamson said the word "Definitionary" has been copyrighted by the co-authors.

Local persons interested in obtaining the book should contact R. Williamson at 284-7747.

Mrs. Albright Is Dinner Chairman

Mrs. Paul Albright of Lafayette is chairman of the family dinner being planned by the Mothers' Club of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity at the University of California.

This major event of the year will be held April 29 at the chapter house in Berkeley.

Assisting Mrs. Albright with arrangements for the dinner are Mrs. Kenneth Bone, Mrs. J. Cosso and Mrs. A. F. Kritscher of Lafayette.

State's Water Condition Best in Several Seasons

Rain and snowfall data for the first three months of 1962 indicate that California will enjoy one of the best water supply seasons of recent history, William E. Warne, director of the State Department of Water Resources, reported to The Sun.

The department's monthly "Water Conditions Report" said: "Even with negligible precipitation during the next few months, the water supply situation for the state as a whole would still be above average. The runoff season, which has now begun, holds every promise for what would best be called a good year, rather than a big year.

"ALL TOO often in California, if there isn't a drought condition, there is a flood or a flood potential. This year, the excellent snowpack, which exists in the mountainous areas of the state, will produce above average streamflow.

Friendly Visitors Hold Training Class Tuesday

Friendly Visitor Volunteer elderly, homebound residents of Contra Costa County who need a friend who will visit them regularly every week. According to reports of the county social service department, public health nurses, and the Red Cross, special training for the visitors will be held next Tuesday in Walnut Creek. Mrs. Jane McClelland, director of this new service, points out that a visit from a friend can often do more to rehabilitate the aged than quantities of medicine or professional care. This unique program has strong co-operative support from county agencies dealing with geriatrics and broad community problems, four United Crusade agencies—the Volunteer Bureau of Contra Costa County, the Contra Costa Council of Community Services, the Red Cross

Teens Love Leather In New Spring Footwear

Teens nimbly "follow the lead" leaving tennis shoes and sneakers behind in the gym lockers. This spring as new leather shoes and boots are being worn, there's an exciting, wide selection of new silhouettes in loafers and booties whose high vamp and long ties resemble bowling shoes, reports Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America. Supple smooth leathers, shaggy brushed leathers and gleaming colored patents set new shoe fashions.

fashions.

THE TWO-HUE shoe is one of the most popular "shoe looks" — especially new in moccasins with contrasting inserts, tricky tongue detailing.

Patents in gleaming black, shimmering green, radiant red brighten the moccasin line-up.

Colorwise, teens have the widest shoe color range in years — including two wonderful new neutrals: mocha mist — lighter than cafe creme color, and white jade — soft white leather with a hint of green. This year the popular boot is more of a boot-shoe than a boot; the sides are still higher than a flat or pump, but never quite reach the ankle.

CUFFS, when there are any, are rich accents in contrasting leathers, colors.

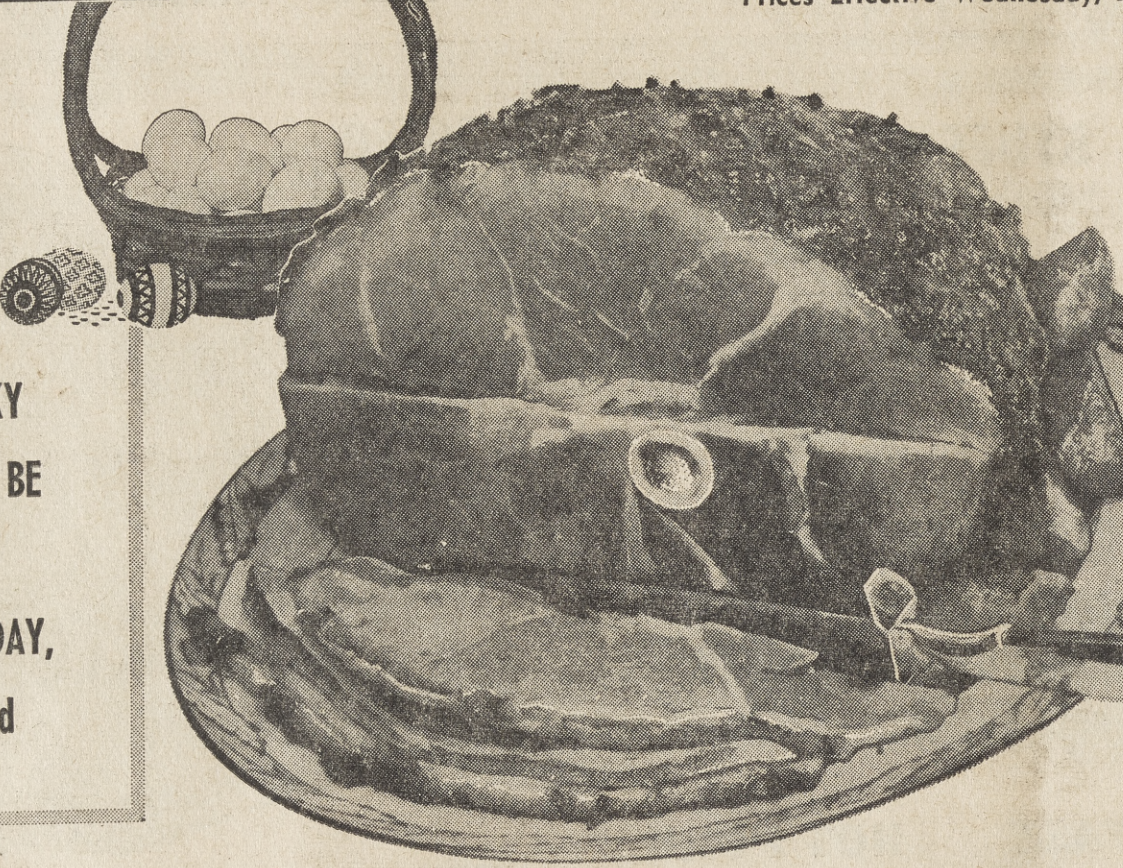

Side laces, one and two-eyelet ties and high collar clip-ons offer variations on the by-now-classic boot look.

Valuations Announced By Assessor

County Assessor E. P. Wanaka has announced that notices of 1962-63 assessed values have been mailed to property owners in the Alamo, Danville and San Ramon School Districts.

The assessor has recently completed a review of the aforementioned area and has mailed letters to all property owners of record as of March 5 informing them of their new assessed values.

"All letters are sent to the address to which the tax bills are mailed," he noted. "If your tax bill is handled by a third party, such as a bank or a tax service agency, the notice of assessed value would have been sent directly to that agency."

"If you have not received a letter," Mr. Wanaka continued, "you may determine your new assessed value by contacting our field office. This office is located in the Veterans' Memorial Building at the corner of Prospect and Hartz Avenue, Danville."

"THIS OFFICE will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, through May 10, to supply this information. The office will not be open on Fridays."

The review of assessed values is a part of a countywide program begun in 1955 to assure that each owner is assessed in proportion to the market value of his property.

Orinda Man Chairman For Kuchel

James E. Moriarty, assistant to the president of Robert Dollar Company, has been named Contra Costa County Chairman of the People for Kuchel campaign, it was announced today by Thomas J. Mellon, Northern California campaign chairman for Kuchel.

Moriarty resides in Orinda with his wife and three children. For the past 11 years he has been active in Republican politics in the county. A graduate of the University of Utah, he is also a member of Sportsmen, Inc., Antioch and a number of civic organizations.

Alcoholics Will Be Studied by Clergymen May 1

Problems of alcoholics and their families will be explained in detail to ministers of the area at a conference being held by five cooperative organizations May 1 at the Nut Bowl in Pleasant Hill.

Sponsored by the Contra Costa Council on Alcoholism, the Council on Alcohol Problems, State Department of Public Health, Central Contra Costa Council of Churches and the Concord Ministerial Association, the conference will feature the Rev. R. J. Winkelman, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Modesto, who will give the keynote address.

Other speakers will be the Rev. Andrew Hammers, director of education of the Council on Alcohol Problems; Dr. John Philp, director of the division of alcoholic rehabilitation, state health department, and Otto H. Carstens, chairman of the Contra Costa Council of Alcoholism.

Dr. Phillip Daunt, rector of St. Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church will be master of ceremonies for the day's meetings.

The conference will start at 10 a.m. and continue until 2 p.m. Ministers who wish to attend this conference should mail their reservations to the Alcohol Information Center, 105 Astrid Drive, Pleasant Hill. Registration fee for the conference is $1.85 which includes the price of the luncheon.

The district covers 117 PTA units in Contra Costa County with a total membership of 34,248.

News of the action by the board of managers was contained in a letter to the board of supervisors from District President Mrs. V. P. Andersen of Richmond.

She thanked the supervisors for their "interest in parks for our county and in furnishing needed recreational facilities."

The bond issue, which requires a two-thirds majority vote for approval, includes $5 million to acquire nine park sites throughout the county totaling nearly 5000 acres.

The remaining $2.5 million will be used for park development.

Mattison stressed the urgency of purchasing park lands now, while they are still available. Most of the areas will be taken for other development if the bonds are not approved by the voters, he predicted.

Parks are planned for Pt. Pinole near Richmond; the Our-san Valley near San Pablo Reservoir, Briones Hills north of Lafayette, Buchanan Field near Concord, Mallard Slough west of Pittsburg, the Nortonville-Somersville coal mines southwest of Antioch and Marsh Creek southwest of Brentwood.

He predicted some sites will be open to the public by 1963 if the bonds are approved by the voters.

Deciduous Hybrids. The large-flowered members of the clematis family are all deciduous hybrids. At their finest, these are spectacular vines. Their lacy fabric provides the backdrop for some of the most striking blooms you'll likely see in the summer garden. Plant them not for overhead shade, but for the framework of beauty they give against a fence or the wall of your house.

During March, of the 143 properties sold, 49.6 per cent were sold by other participants on the multiple listing service with a sales volume of $3 million.

The realtor president continued saying that this is a true indication of the value of a real estate board's modern "supermarket" method of merchandising real estate. Only realtors provide a dual residential and commercial multiple listing service to benefit both buyers and sellers of real property, he added.

Las Amiguitas Unit No. 33, Junior Native Daughters will install a new state of officers Monday evening in the Auditorium of Buena Vista School of San Juan Avenue. The ceremonies will begin at 8 p.m. and are open to the public.

Miss Frances Corrigan, daughter of Mrs. Veronica Garland of Mary Court, Danville, will be installed president of the Junior unit. Fran is a junior student at San Ramon High School.

Other officers to be installed are past president, Cheryl Charon; vice president, Pat Miller; marshal, Nancy Beckemeyer; secretary, Linda Hart; treasurer, Diane Devine; sentinel, Freyita Hill; and board of trustees, Cheryl Patterson, Jeanne Batz and Michele Labarthe.

Presiding as installing officer for the evening will be Miss Kathy Harber, past president of the unit. Assisting her as installing officers will be Janie David,

Park Bond Issue Wins PTA Support

The first in a series of public meetings to discuss the proposed $7.5 million county park bond issue was held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Pleasant Hill Recreation Center, 2060 Oak Park Boulevard, Pleasant Hill.

Speaker was County Park Director Duane Mattison. Chairman E. H. Winslow of the Pleasant Hill Park and Recreation District board of directors served as program chairman.

Desmond M. Teeter of El Cerrito, general chairman of the Citizens Committee of 500 for Parks, said that a similar meeting, chaired by B. J. Callaghan, will be held Tuesday at the Brentwood Judicial District Court building.

He explained meetings will be scheduled until election day June 5 to acquaint citizens with details of the park proposal.

Teeter said the 32nd District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers has endorsed the bond issue.

Sill Heads Niemoeller Appearance on Tuesday

C. Eugene Sill, minister of Hillcrest Congregational Church, Pleasant Hill and chairman of the department of worship of the Council of Churches of Central Contra Costa County, is chairman of the committee planning for the Tuesday mass service of the council featuring Dr. Martin Niemoeller as speaker at the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church, at 8 p.m.

Rev. Sill announces that there will be reserved tickets available through any of the 42 local member churches of the council and additional seating for all wishing to attend.

The service will feature Dr. Niemoeller as speaker and a worship service beginning with a processional of robed ministers and choir members representing the member churches of the central county council under direction of Ronald Standing, choir director of Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church.

In addition, the combined choirs of the Presbyterian Church will be in the choir loft taking part in the service.

In his own country, Dr. Niemoeller has joined to protest the military buildup in West Germany. He is an articulate and sometimes controversial spokesman for peace.

DR. NIEMOELLER has stated that in Germany today "thousands of church member atheists" understand Christianity as a system of ethical or moral principles but feel no need to listen to the Gospel message or participate in a service, and that fewer attend church now than in the days of Hitler.

He recently discussed the challenge to the church in this decade at Riverside Church in New York City, stressing that "the Gospel we preach" cannot be understood merely as an ethical program but that the Gospel is basically a personal relationship between "the living Lord" and a faithful disciple.

He also stated that the division of the church in the present day is one of the challenges confronting it, the idea of Christianity as the white man's religion is another, and that young churches of the world are seeking to overcome their denominational differences.

Dr. Martin Niemoeller, Wiesbaden, Germany, president of the Evangelical Church of Hesse-Nassau is one of the six presidents of the World Council of Churches elected in 1961 at New Delhi, India.

Pastor Niemoeller already stands as an historical figure, a living symbol of Christian resistance to a totalitarian government since the Nazi regime when he was imprisoned in the concentration camps of Sachsenhausen and Dachau where his guards were of necessity changed frequently as they came under the influence of this Christian man.

Prior to the Tuesday service, there will be a dinner at which Dr. Niemoeller will be present—6 p.m., Concord Inn, $7.50 per plate. Proceeds go toward support of work of the local council.
